Whereas, Peter Glenn of the county of Harrison county, has presented a certificate of Hugh Neely, the clerk of said county, declaring said Peter Glenn to have been duly and legally elected State Senator from said county, which certificate was based upon the return of the Board of Canvassers for said county, as provided by law of this State, which certificate bears date, all of which is in due form and attested by the seal of said county, from which it would appear that said Glenn had been duly elected by a majority of the votes of said county of Harrison and legally entitled to his seat as a member of this Senate,

And Whereas, John Mathes, of the county of Harrison, has also presented a paper purporting to be a statement of the votes cast for State Senator in said county of Harrison, certified to be a correct statement of the votes polled in said county, when it would appear that from an error in computation, or otherwise, the said John Mathes and not Peter Glenn had received the highest and greatest number of the votes cast in said county for State Senator, to which certificate is affixed the signature of Hugh Neely, the clerk, as also the seal of said county of Harrison, bearing date 1854.

And Whereas, Upon presentation of the above certificate and paper by the parties respectively, each claiming to have been duly and legally elected and entitled to the seat as such Senator from said county of Harrison, the President of the Senate, without authority and contrary to the provisions contained in the 10th Section of Article 4th, of the Constitution of this State, did decide that said John Mathes was legally entitled to his seat, and thereupon administered to him the oath of office; by which decision said John Mathes now holds his seat as a member of this body,

And Whereas, Said John Mathes, who claimed the seat of said Peter Glenn, did not, according to the provisions of the Revised Statutes contained in chapter 34 in an "Act to provide for contesting the election to any State district, Circuit Court or township office, comply with the same, nor any elector of said county for him, either file with the clerk a statement of the ground of contest, or have or procure to be served upon the contestee any notice of such contest, a copy of such statement, neither does the contestee allege or claim to contest the seat of said Glenn upon either or any of the four causes containing a ground or grounds of contest recited in the 14th section of chapter 34 of Revised Statutes, approved May 4th, 1852,

And Whereas, Said Mathes now occupies a seat in this body as the Senator from the county of Harrison, by virtue of the decision of the President of the Senate, which decision is unauthorized by law or the rules established and adopted for the government of the Senate, and in conflict with the Constitution of the State, as also subversive of the powers and dignity of the Senate, therefore,

Resolved, That John Mathes is hereby declared not a member of the Senate, and that Peter Glenn, the contestee, be, and he is hereby duly entitled to the seat as Senator from the county of Harrison, and that the President administer to him the oath of office.

Resolved, That Peter Glenn having presented the certificate awarded by the Board of Canvassers of Harrison county, certified by the clerk of said county, according to law, is hereby legally entitled to his seat as Senator from said county.

The Senate then repaired to the Hall of the House of Representatives, when the following communication was made to the two Houses by his Excellency, the Governor:

MESSAGE.

*Gentlemen of the Senate,
and of the House of Representatives:*

Assembled for the first time under our biennial system of Legislation, we find causes for mutual congratulation, in the favorable circumstances by which we are surrounded.

During the past two years, the people of Indiana have enjoyed the inestimable blessings of peace, and of civil and religious liberty.

Although, in the course of the year through which we have just passed, some portions of our State have been visited by a fatal epidemic, and, although, in some districts, the earth failed to yield its usual bountiful returns, to reward the labors of the husbandmen; yet, general health now prevails among our large population; and the cultivators of the soil have gathered the fruits of the earth, in quantities sufficient to meet the demands of the home market, and to furnish a large surplus for exportation.

Notwithstanding the temporary presence of financial embarrassments, which, unfortunately, press around the commercial and manufacturing interests of the country, our great agricultural interests is in a prosperous condition; the farmer finds a ready market and good prices for his surplus products; the laborer receives a fair remuneration for his toil; the State holds a position of great and increasing power among her sisters of the Union; and the strong, steady, and impartial protection of our laws extends over all the inhabitants within our borders. In such circumstances, it becomes our duty, as a grateful people, to offer our thanks to Almighty God, and to acknowledge our obligations to Him, for the innumerable blessings that we enjoy.

In compliance with that clause of the Constitution which requires that your chief executive officer "shall from time to time, give to the General Assembly information touching the condition of the State, and recommend such measures as he shall judge to be expedient." I invite your attention to several subjects, each of which will, no doubt, receive from you, before the termination of the present session of the General Assembly, all the consideration that its importance demands.

Among the subjects of legislative consideration, the financial condition of the State demands your special attention. It is to your action alone, that the people must look for the protection of their credit, the preservation of their faith, and an exemption from unnecessary burdens.

It affords me pleasure to be able to say that the fiscal affairs of the State are still improving. Economy has been observed in the public expenditures; and while the interest on the public debt has been promptly paid, the reduction of the principal has not been neglected.

The amount of the ordinary expenses of the State government, as audited, and paid by the Treasurer, for the year ending October 31, 1854, is $54,261 44—which is $49,668 44 less than the amount paid for the year ending October 31, 1853. This sum as the ordinary expenses of a government composed of a million and a quarter of inhabitants, will compare very favorably with the ordinary annual expenditures of any State in the Union—it being, per capita four and one-third cents for each individual.

The ordinary annual expenses of the State government, from October 31, 1844, to October 31, 1854, inclusive, have been as follows:

On the first day of November, 1854, the State debt of Indiana amounted to $7,031,003 50. Of this sum the State has liquidated the amount of $227,864 50, leaving, of the public debt, the sum of $6,803,139, of which sum $1,763,139 is bearing two and a half per cent. interest, and the balance, to-wit, $5,040,000, is bearing five per cent. interest. The aforesaid sum of $227,864 50 having been paid by the State, under the act of the General Assembly creating the Sinking Fund, these stocks remain on the books of the Agency, the interest credited and applied annually to the reduction of the principal of the public debt. Hence, so far as the interest is concerned, the stock belonging to the State is still considered outstanding.

Satisfactory evidences of the strength of the financial resources of the State may be seen in what we have accomplished in the last ten years. During this period, without estimating what are called the ordinary expenses of the State, there have been, by taxation, levied, collected, and applied, the following sums, namely:

For the redemption of principal and interest of scrip.....	$2,274,605 90
Interest on the public debt, including the payment of the interest for January, 1855,	1,798,412 92
Payment upon the principal of the public debt,	227,864 50
Payments to the three Benevolent Institutions,	693,503 31
Expenditures on the State Prison, including expenses connected with the removal of prisoners,	71,412 37
Making.....	$5,065,899 50

If to this we add the ordinary expenses of the State government for the same period, amounting to $945,198 68, we have the sum of $6,011,098 18, equal to about eight-ninths of the present State debt, raised from our people by taxation, at a rate exceeding $600,000 annually; five-sixths of which amount has been annually applied to the payment of interest and to other objects not included among the ordinary expenses of the State.

The exhibit here made of the amount already liquidated of the public debt, fully corroborates the estimates made in my annual communication of 1850, which looked to its final discharge in 1871.

No intricate machinery has been required for this purpose, but simply an application of the surplus means in the Treasury, to the purchase of the debt. And I deem it an imperative duty, while prosperity is all around us, and our other burdens are light to urge upon you the continuance of this policy, and to make an annual levy of not less than five cents upon the one hundred dollars, to be appropriated exclusively for this purpose. With the application of these means, and such other as may be at our command, the last dollar of our public debt will be discharged in 1868. Then will be realized the consummation at which we have so long aimed, when the public stocks of Indiana shall no longer be displayed in market to tempt the cupidity of the sharper, but free from debt, wit light taxes, an economical administration, our commerce, our agriculture, our manufactures, the pride and strength of our people, Indiana shall truly be the envy and admiration of her sisters, of the Union.

Before the next session of the General Assembly, the charter of the State Bank will expire; and, therefore, it devolves on the present Legislature to make some disposition of the interest that the State holds in that Institution. It is wisely provided by the constitution that, hereafter, the State shall not be a stockholder in any bank, nor lend her credit to any corporation. With the object of carrying out this principle, and keeping in view the interests which the State holds in the bank, consisting of stocks, sinking fund, surplus revenue, real estate and other assets, I recommend the appointment of a board of Commissioners with full authority to make a settlement of the affairs of the State and the bank, on the expiration of the charter.

The State is liable for the bonds originally issued for the capital stock, upon which the bank has promptly paid the interest, and the stock, at this time, commands a premium.

The whole legislation of the State, as well as the letter and the spirit of the constitution, declares the expediency of a separation of the interests of the State from all corporations. I concur, fully, with the Auditor of State in his views as to the propriety of the future investment of the sinking fund in the bonds of the State.

The law upon the subject of general banking, has failed to accomplish the purpose for which it was enacted. It has not furnished, for the use of the people, a sound circulating medium. The experience of the two past years fully establishes the correctness of my remarks addressed to the last General Assembly on the subject of banking; and I may adopt, in its fullest meaning, the sentiment then expressed, "that past events have clearly shown that the restrictions provided by the law are insufficient to prevent abuses of the privileges granted."

It is a matter of regret that this subject did not engage the attention of the General Assembly at its last session. I again urge upon your consideration, the views expressed on this question at that time.

The country having over-traded, a necessary demand for exchange to meet Eastern liabilities, was created. This state of affairs caused the broker to seek for gold; and, in pursuing this object, he placed himself in the position of the merchant or business man, and was fulfilling one of those vocations not uncommon in such conditions of the country. It was a fortunate circumstance that the broker came early. We had, in less than six months, issued more than six millions of currency—an amount not required for the maintenance of a healthy condition in our monetary affairs; and if the broker had delayed his visit for a year longer, a greatly increased amount of paper circulation would have resulted in greatly increased pecuniary losses to the people.

The practical operation of the law in many instances, has been that the individual has not sought to locate and commence the business of banking to accommodate the commercial community, but to borrow money for himself under the sanction of the law. Men without capital or with barely credit sufficient to borrow a few thousand dollars of stocks, have been furnished facilities under the law, to become bankers to the extent of millions. With the currency procured upon the first deposit of stocks, other securities have been purchased and other notes procured, and thus a large circulation has been created without a dollar of actual capital.

Directors and bank presidents are now issuing this depreciated currency over their own counters without any effort, or, it is believed, intention ever to redeem it. With this currency they purchase bills payable East, and the farmer instead of getting an equivalent for his products, is paid in a circulation which he cannot dispose of without sacrifice, nor retain in his possession without danger. Instances are not wanting where the proprietors of banks, after suffering their institutions to suspend, have themselves embarked in the business of buying up their own paper at a heavy discount, and thus plundering the laborer of his hard earnings. You will be wanting in your duty to an outraged people if you fail to adopt prompt measures to suppress this practice, which is not only unjust and disreputable, but subversive of public morals.

The indispensable duty of protecting the people of the State from the evils of a depreciated paper currency, requires that no special indulgence should, under any circumstances, be granted to any banking institution that neglects or refuses to redeem its issues in coin. Any bank refusing to redeem its circulation with the constitutional currency of the country should be immediately wound up. No state of facts should be allowed to justify any delay in closing the business of such a bank. Every hour's delay affords to the broker and the speculator, a harvest—yielding as the delay continues, richer and more abundant fruits; and always at the expense of the laborers and the business men of the country.

The law itself is not only glaringly defective, but the construction given to it, and consequently the practice under it. It was evidently contemplated by its framers that no bank should be established with a capital of less than fifty thousand dollars, that it should have a convenient and accessible place of doing business, that it should redeem its issues promptly on demand, and that its proprietors should be at least men of pecuniary ability, and that it should embark in no other than a legitimate bona fide banking business. And yet in how few instances have these requisites been complied with.

Under the 12th and 28th sections of the law it was undoubtedly competent for the Auditor to wind up any bank not doing business at the place where its bills were payable. To give more efficiency to this provision, and to make the duty imperative upon that officer, I called the attention of the Legislature to the subject in my last annual communication, but having failed to procure the required legislation, I renew my recommendations on this point.

The great error in the law, is, that the entire responsibility of the system is placed in the hands of a single individual, and he an officer of the State already charged with duties and trusts of the most important character. This single individual determines upon the validity of the organization, the character and value of the stocks, issues the circulation, holds the securities, passes upon the correctness of the reports, delivers powers of attorney for the collection of interest, and in short settles all questions connected with the banks according to his own unaided judgment. With a bond of only $10,000 he is the custodian of near $10,000,000 of the public securities.

If it be the design of the Legislature to continue this system, it will, in my judgment, be necessary, in order to secure the confidence of the people, and to protect their interests, to provide for the organization of a Bank Department with a Board of Bank Commissioners, with full powers to determine upon the locality of the bank, the necessity for its creation, the solvency of the securities offered, and who should, also, be charged with their custody.

I also recommend, that, inasmuch as the term of the present incumbent is about to close, a committee of the two Houses be appointed to investigate fully the condition of all matters pertaining to the banks connected with the office of the Auditor of State. A full report will doubtless do much to allay the apprehensions of the public, and establish confidence wherever merited.

The valuable and interesting report of that officer will present you in detail the operations of the Free Banking system in his hands.

It will doubtless be the policy of the legislature to provide for the immediate closing, and withdrawal from circulation of the paper, of all such institutions as persist in the violation of the palpable provisions of law. In doing so, due regard should be had both to the interests of the people, and of the banker, so as to prevent undue excitement and apprehensions on the one hand, and loss and insolvency on the other. A contrary policy might involve the solvent with the insolvent, the upright man of business with the dishonest and corrupt.

With the state of things we have had for the last year it was not possible to avoid revulsions and monetary excitements.

The circulation of the State Bank in October, 1853, was.....	$3,834,765 50
Circulation in October, 1854,....	2,803,648 00
Decrease	1,031,117 50

The Stock Bank circulation July 1st, 1854,.....	$9,299,575 00
Circulation January 1st. 1855,	5,565,099 00
Estimated amount in hands of bankers not in circulation.....	1,000,000 00
Decrease in six months.....	4,734,475 00

The precise amount surrendered at the Auditor's office up to the 1st day of January, 1855, is$3,731,475 00

Here we have a withdrawal from circulation in twelve months, and the greater part in four months, of $5,666,123 00, or more than one-half of all the circulation called money in the State. More than three millions of this circulation is depreciated; its value being at the mercy of the broker and speculator. The same facts, in regard to the decrease of the currency, are true, although perhaps in less proportions in the adjoining States with which we have commercial intercourse. How can any people have stability under this state of monetary affairs?

We shall always have revulsions, expansions, contractions, and derangement in the whole business of the country, so long as we foster any system that makes promises to pay money, instead of gold and silver. If the inferior circulation were this day withdrawn, I have no doubt we should find a sufficient amount of the constitutional currency among our people for all ordinary business purposes.

We have not only a depreciated currency, issued under the authority of law, but we have a depreciated currency, issued by rail road, plank road, and insurance companies, without the authority of law. Thousands of dollars of this latter kind of depreciated paper have been thrown into circulation, and left to represent an uncertain and variable value in the ordinary transactions of business. The credit of the State, and the interests of the people, demand an abatement of this evil.

No subject of legislation is calculated to awaken more pleasing anticipations for the future than our system of popular education. Indiana, under the auspices of her new Constitution, has, upon the subject of education, adopted a policy that has commanded the admiration of some of the older States of the Union. Let us, by the most judicious course of legislation, prevent a retrograde movement on the part of the State, with respect to this very important interest.

The recent decisions of the Supreme Court, on the constitutionality of the consolidation of the avails of the school sections, and on the township tax for school purposes, while they have settled those questions in a manner satisfactory to the parties that raised them, do not, in the least degree, disturb the broad basis on which our system of public instruction rests.

It will be a task worthy of the exercise of your legislative wisdom, to correct, by some means within the scope of your legitimate powers, the inequalities caused by the first decision, in the annual avails of the local funds. In the distribution of the general fund raised by the school tax, it is believed that the desired results may be obtained as readily as they could have been accomplished had the decision been otherwise.

The second decision, as I understand its import and application, confines the power and limits the responsibility of raising funds, for purposes of adequate and general public instruction, to the Legislature alone. The restricting of the exercise of this power, and the limiting of its responsibilities to the General Assembly, will produce the uniformity contemplated by the constitution. It is not believed, however, that the Supreme Court, in deciding the unconstitutionality of the township tax, intended to declare that the people of the several townships are, by the constitution, deprived of the right of taxation for the purposes of building school houses, and furnishing apparatus, furniture, and fuel for the use of the public schools. They mean, by the construction that they place upon the word "uniformity," as it appears in the constitution, to convey the idea that the tax levied for purposes of education, and to be applied in the payment of teachers, must be levied by the Legislature. If, however, they intend to apply the principal of the decision to all the details of the municipal regulations of the school affairs of townships and towns, the interests of education imperiously demand an early amendment to the constitution. In order to secure efficiency in the operations of any system of public instruction, the action of the people, in township and in district organizations, is indispensably necessary.

I cannot, for a moment, suppose that corporate towns and cities may be invested, constitutionally with the powers necessary to manage their municipal affairs, according to their peculiar circumstances, in every department of local interest, excepting only that most important of all interests, the education of youth. It would be a ruinous policy to make an exception so fatal to all prospects of efficient action on the part of one of the most essential elements of human progress.

It is gratifying to know that, where the school law has been carried into effect, according to its obvious import, under the control of efficient officers, and without the disturbing influence of legal questions, its action has been happy and harmonious; and warrants the expectation that, with slight amendments, not affecting its vital principles, but merely correcting some oversights and supplying some deficiencies, it will remain among our statutes, an exponent of the wisdom of its framers, and a blessing and an honor to the State.

The signs of our educational progress may be seen in the increasing number of graded schools—some of established reputation, and others aspiring to that position—and in large, commodious, and costly edifices that have been erected for purposes of education, in various parts of the State. The building of numerous school houses, and the increasing demand for competent teachers, are additional evidences of the favor with which the people regard our educational interests. The recent organization of a Teachers' Institute, and the later organization of a State Teachers' Association, with its associated lectures, I hail as omens of good; and predict that beneficial and far-reaching influences will flow out from these institutions.

During the past two years, the steady increase of the number of students in our several Colleges, and the manifestations on the part of those who have charge of these Institutions, of an active sympathy with all the educational movements of the State, have afforded additional and gratifying evidences of the sound state of popular opinion on the subject of education.

It is the duty of the State to extend to all the general educational enterprises of her citizens, the countenance and encouragement of a liberal policy; and, in the maintenance of such a policy, to exempt from taxation at least those funds that have been bestowed by private munificence, for the moral and intellectual training of the youth of the State.

The affairs of the State University, at Bloomington, require some prompt and decisive action on the part of the General Assembly. In the early part of the year 1854, the main college building, and the very valuable Library that it contained, were destroyed by fire. The Trustees immediately adopted energetic and economical means to repair the damages; and a new and commodious edifice, designed for the principal department of the University, is now nearly completed.

You are aware that, for some years the affairs of this Institution have been embarrassed by the progress of a law suit, which involved about sixty thousand dollars of its funds, and which grew out of a controversy between the State and the Vincennes University. The suit has been decided against the State; but no decision has been made in any controversy wherein the State University was a party, and it is believed the judgment of the Court cannot, without further legislative action, be carried into effect by any transfer of the funds in question, to the Vincennes University.

Having no doubt of the power of the State to adjust this difficulty, (in which the rights and liabilities of the parties arose under the old constitution,) by any means at her command, or on time, I earnestly recommend the adoption of measures for the early settlement of this controversy, in some way that will not deprive the State University of its present resources. The suit, to which reference has been made, was instituted under the authority of an act of the Legislature; and, whatever opinions may be entertained as to the results of future litigation on the part of the State University, the interests of the people of the State, of the Institution, and of the community in which it is located, require an early and final settlement of the question.

A statement of the condition of the funds of the State University will be placed before you, in the report of the Trustees. These officers, in the course of the past year, obtained a loan of six thousand dollars from the Sinking Fund; and they should be invested with authority to mortgage a part of the college lands to secure the payment of this loan. The whole subject of the sale of the lands granted by Congress and amounting to about twenty-four thousand acres, is respectfully submitted for the consideration and action of the General Assembly.

In the late revision of the Statutes of Indiana, the laws on the subject of the profanation of the Sabbath, were, it seems, unintentionally overlooked, and annulled by general repealing clauses. The observance of this day, as a day of rest from the common secular concerns of life, is not only a religious duty, but it is a political and social interest, which no enlightened people may disregard with impunity. From the past, and from the present, many sad examples rise up before us, to warn us of the inevitable decline of strength and virtue, and prosperity, in nations and States where the Legislators and the people have looked with indifference on the profanation of the Sabbath.

With respect to this subject, the present General Assembly will, doubtless take into consideration the propriety of re-enacting those laws which up to a recent period, and through all changes, have stood among our Statutes since the foundation of the State Government.

The law of 1853, on the subject of the traffic in intoxicating liquors, has been rendered inoperative by a decision of the Supreme Court of this State; and an unusual degree of excitement has prevailed among the people, in relation to the laws that should be passed by the General Assembly, for the purpose of restraining the desolating evils of intemperance. The necessity of restraining these evils by the force of law, has been acknowledged by our legislation, from the organization of the Government to the present time; and in the course of the past year, this subject, involving the happiness and prosperity of our race, and rising far above all party considerations, was forced in some measure, to assume the nature of a political issue.

Some of the best citizens of the State entertain serious doubts, not only as to constitutionality, but as to the expediency of adopting stringent legal means for the suppression of intemperance; and it is neither prudent nor just to assume from this fact, that such men are among the foes of temperance. All experience shows that very stringent penal laws against privileges and habits long indulged in, are calculated to produce a re-action in public sentiment.

We have, in our State, some counties, in which, even under our defective laws, not a solitary dram-shop is to be found, and in which, no person could find a support as a retailer of spirituous liquors to be drank as a beverage. Here, then, are examples of the prevalence of a sound public opinion in communities where agitation, discussion, and moral influence have effected a reformation, and where the people now require only sound legislation to protect them in the enjoyment of their happy condition.

The legislative department of the Government is, unquestionably, vested with the right to prohibit the manufacture and sale of ardent spirits as a beverage; but, in framing a law for this purpose, great care should be observed, in order to protect from violation and from annoyance, the constitutional rights of every law-abiding citizen, in the security and sanctity of his own home.

The evils of intemperance are so numerous, so great, and so destructive, that all good men will rejoice to see them abated. No estimate of the loss of business, the loss of dollars and cents to the manufacturer or retailer, or the loss of trade and commerce to the State, should for a moment rise into importance, in contrast with those terrible realities of poverty, sorrow, wretchedness, moral degradation and crime which darken our land, and fill our alms-houses, hospitals and penitentiaries. Benevolence and public policy alike require a suppression of the evils of intemperance; and if the wails of the widow and the fatherless fail to reach our hearts, and urge us to apply a remedy, considerations of economy in the administration of the law should not be disregarded.

It has always seemed to me, that the individual who sells intoxicating liquors in violation of law, and the person who becomes a drunkard by the habitual use of such liquors, are both guilty. A drunkard should, by law, be disqualified for the making of contracts, or the management of property, thereby protecting his family from the designs of the cunning and cruel, in the waste and destruction of his estate. We shall fail in our duty unless we throw the strong arm of the law around the wife and children of the inebriate.

No one can doubt that there is a strong public sentiment in Indiana in favor of a change in our laws upon this subject; and it is the duty of the people's servants to carry out that sentiment. It will give me pleasure to co-operate with the Representatives of the people, in the adoption of any constitutional measure, that may be calculated to remove this acknowledged evil from the State.

The Reports of the Trustees of the Benevolent Institutions exhibit the condition and management of these monuments of the benevolence of Indiana. The people willingly pay their taxes to sustain these Institutions. It is, however, essentially necessary to provide additional checks in the expenditure of the public money raised for their support. Their cost per year, amounts to more than the sum paid annually on account of the ordinary expenses of the State government. As they are now placed upon the Treasury proper, to be sustained by direct appropriations, it is hoped that the necessity of borrowing money to support them, will not again arise.

I recommend that the management of the affairs of the three Benevolent Institutions, be placed under the control of one set of Trustees, not exceeding five in number; and that the law which governs the expenditures of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, be extended over the other Institutions.

At this time, while financial embarrassments are affecting some of the commercial and manufacturing interests of the country, it is gratifying to observe that there are evidences of industry, prosperity and improvement, among the farmers and mechanics of the State. All classes of our laboring population are turning their attention, as members of various industrial associations, to the consideration of the best means of promoting the interests of their several pursuits. Under the authority of the Act of the General Assembly, approved February 17, 1852, about sixty Agricultural Associations have been established in Indiana, and a very large portion of this number held interesting and profitable fairs, in the fall of the year 1854. I suggest that the law under which agricultural societies are organized, be so amended that these associations shall be invested with the right to hold real estate, for purposes connected with the holding of their annual fairs. Many of the societies have purchased valuable grounds, on which they are making permanent improvements.

The State Board of Agriculture is now in session, with a full delegation from various parts of the State. By the operations of this Board during the past year, more than four thousand volumes on agricultural subjects have been distributed among the people of the State. These volumes contain not only valuable information, derived from the experience of some of the best farmers of Indiana, but also many useful and interesting facts in relation to the agricultural experience of the most distinguished farmers of other States of the Union.

It is the duty of those who represent the people in the General Assembly, to aid and encourage the efforts of the State Board of Agriculture and its auxiliary societies. By stimulating labor, by rewarding industry and skill, by encouraging the useful arts, and by diffusing, in various ways, useful and practical knowledge, these associations have exerted a most beneficial influence in promoting the agricultural interest, and in increasing the amount and value of the products of our home industry.

I recommend that you appropriate the sum of three thousand dollars for the permanent inclosing of the military grounds at the Capital. This sum, in addition to that which will be furnished by the citizens of Indianapolis and the agricultural society of Marion county, will be sufficient to provide suitable grounds for the periodical display of the most valuable stock of the State, and for the exhibition of the labor and skill of our mechanics and manufacturers.

The correspondence on the subject of acquiring territory in Liberia, for the colonization of our colored population, will be found in the reports of the colonization agent. From this correspondence, it appears that the contemplated quantity of land cannot be acquired in a body. The object in view may, however, be accomplished by such a modification of the law as shall authorize the selections of lands, in smaller quantities, for families and individuals who may emigrate from Indiana to Liberia. The expediency of making such a modification of the law, is worthy of your consideration.

Since the passage of the law authorizing a State organization for the purpose of aiding the cause of African colonization, forty-eight persons have been sent from Indiana to Liberia. A majority of these emigrants were good mechanics, industrious and intelligent men, and well qualified to exert a good influence in that infant republic.

Time has demonstrated that the scheme of African colonization is practicable, and no enterprise of the age holds out greater promise of good to the colored race. Within the last twenty years, through the influence of the Liberian government, the principles of christian civilization and civil liberty have accomplished more, among the twenty-five million of that portion of Africa, than had been achieved by the efforts of philanthropists in the course of many preceding centuries. The colored man, in his native land, has established a republic, built towns and cities, founded churches and schools, and adopted a policy calculated to encourage agriculture, mechanics, manufactures, and other industrial pursuits. We must look to this land for the elevation of the African, for the separation of the white and colored races, and for the removal or mitigation of a great source of evil. I recommend that you continue the annual appropriation for the cause of colonization, and that your voice be heard in the national councils, asking for the recognition of the independence of the Republic of Liberia.

In former messages, my views in relation to the necessity of making provisions, by law, for a thorough geological and topographical survey of the State, and in reference to the importance of creating a Bureau of Statistics in one of the departments of State, have been laid before the Legislature. Again, earnestly, I invite your attention to these subjects.

In the early part of the year 1854, the State Board of Agriculture, at an expense of five hundred dollars, employed Dr. Brown, to make a cursory geological examination of the State, and to publish the results of his labors in the third annual report of the Board. In that report, which has been placed on your table, you will find much valuable information on the subject of our undeveloped agricultural and manufacturing resources. We have neglected these interests too long, and the present is a favorable time to correct this error of our home policy. Europe is now convulsed with a contest, the end of which cannot be foreseen, but which will, while it lasts, continue to disturb the commercial and manufacturing interests of the world. While we cannot be indifferent spectators of this terrible conflict among the nations of Europe, we should be admonished of the necessity of cultivating the arts of peace, and of developing those boundless resources of wealth that a bountiful Providence has scattered broadcast over our land. Without depending upon the fluctuating and uncertain influences of national legislation, it is our duty to strengthen and encourage the arms of enterprise and industry, by the strong force of a wise and steady State policy.

With a coal field of seven thousand square miles in extent—with inexhaustible beds of iron ore—with a soil of unfailing fertility—with a central position between the east and the west—and with railroads traversing the State in all directions—Indiana, if true to her own interests, may, within the course of the next ten years, double the present amount of her wealth and population.

If we desire to bring into our State a portion of the now hoarded capital of Europe and the east, we must be able to point with certainty to the places at which it can be profitably invested. To enable us to do this, we want reliable facts, such as the actual investigations of scientific men only can furnish. The expenditure of a few thousand dollars, if authorized by the Legislature, will secure to us the advantages of a thorough geological and topographical survey of the State. While our sister States, by the aid of science, are unfolding their agricultural and mineral wealth, we are trusting these great interests to chance and to individual enterprise.

In view of the facts, that there are in Indiana twenty-five hundred miles of railroads, either now in running order, or approaching a state of completion—that the affairs of some of these roads are controlled by the interests of citizens of other States—that our railroads furnish employment to thousands of hands—and that the policy of these corporations exercises an important influence on the trade and commerce of our State, and on the character of the citizens—it becomes the duty of the Legislature, not only to adopt efficient measures for the prevention of unauthorized and unjust exactions upon the traveling public, but to provide, as far as human foresight can provide, and by any means within the scope of legislative authority, for the prevention of those railroad accidents which so frequently result in the destruction of property and the loss of human life.

Many of the common railroad accidents of the day, which are caused by unsubstantial temporary bridges, defective locomotives, badly constructed railways, improper signals, and carelessness on the part of employees, might be avoided, by subjecting the conduct of railroad companies to the scrutiny of officers deriving their authority from the Legislature. You are therefore invited to take into consideration the expediency of providing for the appointment of General Railroad Commissioners, who shall be practical and scientific men, and who shall be invested with power to visit the different roads, enquire into and report abuses, and require compliance with the provisions of law. The companies having charge of roads that connect with roads in other States adjoining, should be required to keep, in this State, an office for the transaction of business.

It is confidently hoped that the present Legislature will, without authorizing any unreasonable interference with the affairs of railroad companies, provide, by the enactment of suitable laws, for holding to the strictest accountability all persons entrusted with the management of these corporations.

An early consideration of the expediency of creating the office of Attorney General is pressed upon the attention of the General Assembly. With respect to this subject, the justness of the views contained in my annual communication of 1851 has been confirmed by the experience of the two past years. The amounts paid and the liabilities incurred by the State, for professional services, during that period, will exceed the sum of five thousand dollars. Constitutional questions that affect the revenues of the State, the common schools, the tenure of offices, &c., are continually arising in the courts, and yet there is, for the State, no legal adviser. Economical considerations clearly indicate the necessity of creating the office of Attorney General.

In the application of the principles of economy, in fixing the compensations of the officers of the State government, we should be careful to avoid a parsimonious policy. The salaries attached to our public offices should not be prodigally large; but they should be sufficiently remunerative to command, in the administration of the public affairs, the services of the most worthy and the most competent men. The very best and most wholesome laws may, in consequence of their incorrect interpretation, or improper administration, fail to accomplish the purposes for which they were made.

In order to secure strength, efficiency, and success in the administration of the public affairs, it is the duty and the interest of the State to provide for the payment of fair salaries to public officers. The present salaries of our Judges are not sufficient; and it is absolutely necessary to increase the compensation of these public servants, if we desire and expect to have, in this department, the services of men qualified to administer justice, and to command, for the judiciary, the confidence and respect of the people. These remarks are applicable to other public officers, and to the discharge of other official duties.

During the course of the years 1853 and 1854, the present efficient State Treasurer has received and distributed about three-quarters of a million of public moneys, on account of swamp and wet lands. For the additional responsibilities and labors imposed on him in the discharge of these duties, the Legislature should allow a proper compensation.

Before the next meeting of the Legislature, the present lease of the State Prison will expire; and the duty devolves on you to decide whether the present system of selling out the crime of the State to the highest bidder, shall be continued or abandoned. The policy of making periodical sales of the management and labor of the criminals that the State may have in its custody, is highly objectionable. The Penitentiary of Indiana is as well kept, in conformity with the law that governs it, as any State Prison in the Union; but the system is essentially wrong, and unworthy of the State.

The State should have the entire control of the Prison, its discipline, its labor, and its internal regulations; and, as far as it may be practicable and expedient, a system of rewards for good conduct should be kept constantly before the view of each convict. Do not make the convict a slave without hope, if you expect to reform him; but let him know that the State regards him, even within the walls of a prison, as a man, in whose reformation and restoration to the rights of citizenship, she feels an interest.

In determining the question of the future management of the State Prison, the idea of making it profitable, in a pecuniary way, should be outweighed by a higher consideration—the duty of adopting the best means for the reformation of the convicts within its walls

The constitution that you have sworn to support, declares that the General Assembly “shall provide houses of refuge for the correction and reformation of juvenile offenders.” Of two hundred and sixty-seven men in the State Prison, thirty-six are under twenty years of age; and more than one-half of the whole number are under twenty-five years of age. The youth of sixteen is found by the side of the old offender, and deprived of all associates other than those who are hardened in crime. All prisoners convicted of the first offence, and all youthful convicts, should be placed in situations where they would receive the kind advice of parents, guardians, or friends. By adopting this policy, our prisons will soon become houses of reformation, as well as places of punishment.

I communicate, herewith, the list of pardons, fines, and forfeitures, for the last two years, and suggest that they be published with this message; and, also, that you provide, by law, for the annual publication of similar lists.

Your attention is specially invited to the interesting Report of the late Visitor to the State Prison, to the Reports of the other officers, and to the views expressed in my former communications upon the subject of the management of this institution.

Early in 1853, appointments of Brigadier Generals were made, with the view of effecting an organization of the military strength of the State; and, at a court martial which was held in the month of October, 1853, rules and regulations were adopted, which, it was believed, were at least sufficient to develop and secure that strength. Commissions have been issued in thousands; letters of instruction have been sent to the proper officers; and every effort has been made to carry the law into effect; yet not one Brigade enumeration has been perfected; and I hesitate not to express the opinion that no organization can be effected, unless the General Assembly gives to the proper authorities the power to impose penalties for the non-performance of official and militia duty.

Although our strength has increased four-fold since 1831, we are drawing our quota of arms from the General Government, upon our strength of that year. Many valuable suggestions are contained in the reports of the Adjutant General, which will be laid before you. The labor of this officer has been greatly increased, and he should receive additional compensation.

Many questions of vital interest to the State, are presented, for your consideration, in the Report of the Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal. The most of these have been alluded to in my former messages, to which your attention is invited. Since the last meeting of the Legislature, the Wabash and Erie Canal has been completed to the city of Evansville; thus forming the longest line of continuous artificial inland navigation on the globe. In the completion of this great work, we may find, taking into consideration the many embarrassing obstacles which have been thrown in its way, causes for mutual congratulation. It opens, for the extensive districts of fertile country lying upon its borders, a cheap means for the transportation of heavy articles of export and import; and, by affording the means of an easy passage to northern or southern market, it promotes, materially, the agricultural interest of the State, and imparts a stimulus to other branches of our home industry.

It is an unpleasant duty to call your attention to the fact, that, in a few instances, in some portions of the State, indications of the existence of a spirit of mob-law and violence have appeared. Secret associations, usurping the prerogatives of law, have, (by means of disturbing the peace of families, injuring property, and inflicting corporal punishment on individuals,) undertaken to regulate the morals of the communities in which such lawless combinations are permitted to exist. Civil officers, and peaceful citizens, fearful of incurring the dangerous hostility of members of these secret associations, allow their lawless acts to pass without punishment, and almost without public censure. The inevitable tendency of these secret associations is to corrupt the morals of the community, and to divest men of their respect for law and order.

In reference to this subject, it seems that some additional legislation is required, in order to insure prompt and efficient action on the part of the civil authorities. If, in cases of unlawful assemblages, riots, routs, affrays, &c., the Circuit Courts were invested with concurrent jurisdiction with the Courts of Common Pleas, and informants were thus shielded by Grand Juries, the change would, perhaps, afford to society some additional protection against the violence of lawless men.

No state of facts can ever arise, in a government like ours, that should, for a moment, tolerate private citizens in the usurpation of the right either to redress their own real or imaginary wrongs, or to inflict injuries on the property or on the persons of their neighbors. Wherever such usurpations are tolerated and encouraged, the people are rapidly approaching a state of anarchy, in which laws can afford no protection to life, liberty, or property. It is, therefore, the solemn duty of every citizen of Indiana to aid in the preservation of the public peace, and in the maintenance of the supremacy of the laws. These interests must be preserved, and maintained, at all hazards.

The total amount of money arising from the sale of swamp lands, paid into the treasury, and in the hands of the receivers, is at the present time, about $500,000. Of this sum, $340,000 has been disbursed under the law authorizing the ditching and draining of the lands. In some portions of the State, the expenditure of the funds has produced good results; in other parts the money has been paid to officers, and nothing beneficial to wet lands has been accomplished.

The operations of the swamp land laws have confirmed the views expressed in my former communications to the Legislature. The correctness of the construction that has been placed, by officers of State, on these laws, as they relate to the mode of issuing patents, is, in my opinion, very doubtful. The subject demands your early attention. It is yet possible, by prudent legislation, to secure, for the common school fund, a considerable amount of the proceeds of the swamp lands. The very valuable Report of the Auditor of State will place before you the details of the management of this trust.

It is the duty of the present General Assembly, to fix by law, the number of Senators and Representatives that shall compose the Legislature, and to apportion such Senators and Representatives among the several counties, according to the number of white male inhabitants above twenty-one years of age, in each. In connection with this subject, your attention is invited to the suggestions that were contained in a previous message, in reference to a reduction of the present number of Senators. In the discharge of the duty first named, and in any action which, in your discretion you may deem proper, in respect to the suggestions concerning a reduction of the number of Senators, you will, no doubt, be controlled by an equitable regard for the interests of the citizens of all portions of the State.

It is your duty to establish all the guards and restrictions that may be necessary for the protection of the purity of the ballot box, and the security of the elective franchise. I suggest that you prohibit, under severe penalties, against the separation of all the officers of an election, until the ballots are counted, and the result of the poll is known and declared.

The attention of the Legislature is again called to the consideration of the subject of providing suitable buildings for the State offices at the seat of government. The proceeds of the property owned by the State, and the additional aid that the General Government will, doubtless, furnish, will be sufficient to erect a substantial building on the "Governor's Circle," for the accommodation of the National and State officers, without imposing any tax on the State Treasury. The Capitol building should be appropriated only to the uses of the General Assembly, the Representatives of the people, and the State Library.

An appropriation should be made for the enclosing of the capitol grounds with an iron fence. This is rendered absolutely necessary, in order to preserve the building and the grounds.

The loss of some of our State Bonds by a late disaster at sea, suggests the propriety of providing by law, for the relief of the holders of bonds in similar cases. The law should be well guarded—requiring proof of loss, identification of numbers, dates, and amounts—and made applicable to all cases of loss or destruction of State bonds.

The Secretary of State of the United States has transmitted to the Executive department of this State, a copy of the details of a "Consular Convention between the United States and his Majesty, the Emperor of the French," concluded on the 23d day of February last. This document, and an accompanying circular that explains the object of the transmission, are herewith presented for your consideration.

The great inequality now existing in the appraised value of real estate, and the recent rapid progress of improvements demand, it seems to me, a re-appraisement of lands; and the expediency of causing a full and complete census of the State to be taken, for the year 1855, is also worthy of your consideration.

In accordance with the requirements of the resolution of the last General Assembly, authorizing an examination into "the stock affairs of the State, the loss of surrendered bonds, and the excess of scrip, the undersigned, in company with the Treasurer of State, visited the office of our Agency, at New York, in August, 1853. The missing bonds having been found a few days previously, were carefully counted, and are now in the office of the Treasurer of State.

The apparent discrepancy between the books of the Agent of State and those of the Auditor, as to the amount of bonds surrendered, was examined in order to correct this discrepancy, a complete copy of the books of the Agent of State was made, and carefully compared in every particular. This copy is now in the hands of the Auditor of State, who by reference to it, has corrected the supposed errors; and it is believed that the Report of the Auditor, based upon this examination, presents a correct view of the State debt.

It had been stated that Indiana had not received any part of the three per cent. fund due her, for lands sold at Chillicothe and Cincinnati; and in the course of the official visit to which I have referred, the officers before named, made an examination at the General Land Office, with respect to the amount and condition of the three per cent. fund due the State from the General Government. I submit, herewith, a report, obtained from the General Land Office, showing the condition of this fund, up to the date of the report; and accompanying the report is a letter on the same subject, addressed to the Secretary of the Interior, under the date of November 10, 1853.

The subject of the excess of scrip has been carefully examined by two gentlemen under oath. Their report, which is herewith submitted, shows the amount redeemed and cancelled upon the books, by each Treasurer. The question of further action, in relation to this subject, is submitted to your consideration.

The first and second instalments due by virtue of the sale (in pursuance of an Act of the General Assembly, approved February 28, 1852,) of the interest the State had in the Madison and Indianapolis Railroad, have not been paid. A mortgage was taken upon the road and all its equipments, and duly recorded in the several counties through which the road passes. Upon the failure to pay the first instalment of seventy-five thousand dollars, due the first day of January, 1854, the claim was placed in the hands of able attorneys for collection. The report of the Trustee named in the mortgage, and the correspondence upon the subject, together with a communication from the President of the Company, will place before you the condition of this claim.

Many important questions, all of which will doubtless receive your careful consideration, have been raised under the operations of our new constitution and Revised Statutes, since the last session of the General Assembly. Among the subjects that will claim your attention, are the amendment of the law in relation to the compensation of Sheriffs for the removal of convicts to the State Prison—the expediency of investing Clerks of Courts with power to order the holding of elections for Justices of the Peace—the decision of the Supreme Court, on the subject of the amendment of Statutes—and the extent to which it will become your duty to revise the laws affected by that decision.

We cannot be indifferent spectators to the action of the General Government and to the political events of the day. The past year has been one of unusual political excitement; and, to the patriot, it must be a source of regret to perceive that this excitement has, in no small degree, evinced a dangerous spirit of sectionalism.

Indiana, as a State, has wisely selected her own domestic policy; and the people feel that they have the right, from time to time, to change or modify that policy. Satisfied with the degree of prosperity that we have attained under our own free institutions, we have uniformly respected the constitutional rights of each member of the confederacy; and no just cause of complaint against Indiana can be made by any State of the Union.

Whatever views may be entertained by others, it is my deliberate opinion that, at this day, the people of no State are more national in their political sympathies than are the citizens of Indiana. Enjoying the privilege of making our own laws, in our own way, on all subjects not prohibited by the constitution of the United States, we acknowledge the existence of a similar right in the people of every other State and Territory in the Union. I know of no other principle but this, upon which we can stand with safety and honor. It is the chief corner-stone on which, under God, the security and perpetuity of the Union rests. If we cannot maintain this position, there is no hope of peace and harmony in the future. Whenever we abandon this stand, we shall lend our influence in invoking that worst of all political calamities, a dissolution in feeling and sympathy of the members of this great confederacy—thus transforming moral and fraternal ties that bind us together, into mere galling and oppressive physical forces.

Our only hope of perpetuating our institutions in all their original vigor and purity, rests upon the adoption of that system of legislation that throws the several States and Territories of the Union more and more upon their own resources, and confines the action of the General Government within the limits defined by the constitution.

Ardently desiring to co-operate with you, in all that will advance the interests of our beloved commonwealth, and looking to that Being who, alone, is able to guide us in the paths of wisdom, you have my warmest aspirations, that all your proceedings, at this interesting and critical period in our history, may have a tendency to increase the strength and maintain the honor of our State, and promote the happiness and prosperity of the people.

The Senate met.

The President laid before the Senate the following communication from the Auditor of State :

OFFICE OF STATE AUDITOR, }
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 12th, 1855. }

HON. A. P. WILLARD,

President of the Senate:

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the following resolution of the Senate, passed January 10th 1855, viz:

"Resolved, That the Auditor of State be requested to communicate to the Senate the reason for his refusal to Patent a larger amount than forty acres of Swamp Lands in one Patent."

In reply to which resolution, I have the honor to submit the following statement to the Honorable body over which you preside.

Section 3 of An act to regulate the sale of Indiana Swamp Lands and for other purposes, passed May 29, 1852, provides among other things, that "It shall be the duty of the Auditor of State, as soon as possible after the State shall receive her Patent from the United States for the swamp lands, to cause to be prepared, maps or plats of all swamp lands lying within the bounds of each county separately showing the township, range, section and parts of sections, together with the number of each, in which such lands may lie." Which maps or plats were by said State Auditor to be forwarded without delay to the respective county auditors.

Section 5 of the same law provides also, among other things, that "it shall be the duty of county auditors to attend at the courthouse of his county at the times mentioned in the notice of sale of said swamp lands, and offer for sale at public auction, in legal subdivisions, and as near as practicable, in half-quarter sections, all the swamp lands in said counties respectively."

This act, as will appear from the foregoing sections, seemed to require that maps or plats should be made out by the Auditor of State, in legal sub-divisions, and that the county auditors in making such sales, shall be required as near as was practicable, with half quarter sections. In arriving at the word, legal sub-divisions of land, we have to go to the expressions of the Legislature themselves, in the term immediately following such word "legal sub-division." They say it means half quarter sections, and upon that meaning, they order the swamp lands sold, or as near as is practicable therewith. In one word, they say that no man can purchase less than eighty acres of swamp lands at such public sales. Now if the Auditor of State could have went to work and made out the maps or plats contemplated by section 3 above quoted, it would undoubtedly have been his duty, under and in pursuance of section 5, also above quoted, to make out such maps or plats in the legal subdivisions therein contemplated, and should the sales of such swamp lands have been made in accordance with the law referred to, it would have been clearly his duty to issue the certificates of Patents to the purchasers in such legal sub-divisions. But the Patents to the swamp lands granted under the act of 28th September, 1850, from the United States, did not arrive at this office until the spring of 1853, consequently the sales of said lands was not made in pursuance of the act of the General Assembly of May 29, 1852. Nor were the maps or plats made under the provisions of said law.

Section 2 of an act entitled "an act supplemental to the act above referred to;" approved March 4, 1853, provided that "the auditor of each county shall also allow any person to enter a legal sub-division of forty acres or less, where the same constitutes one tract according to the survey and plat of the United States Surveyor." Taking this act in connection with the act to which it is amendatory, we are lead to conclude that the Legislature of 1853 seeing the evident hardship and injustice which the former law would work upon the poorer class of community in this, that they should not partake of the benefits of the law, unless they appeared in competition with the rich and bid off at least eighty acres, and that many of our citizens could not command enough means to purchase an eighty acre tract, but who could pay for a forty acre piece, amended the law first referred to, and wisely, as we think, placed the legal sub-division at forty acres.

Taking this view of the case, and being compelled to make out and transmit to the different county auditors, the maps or plats contemplated by law, and being further required to make out and keep a complete set of tract books for this office, agreeing in description and quantity with said maps or plats, it became a very important question to me to so arrange said maps or plats and tract books, as to correspond with the entries of such lands, according to the legal sub-divisions thereof as made by the Legislature of 1853, it was self-evident that uniformity should be regarded in the maps or plats and the tract books, so as to correspond with the numbers, certificates, description and quantity of acres sold. Hence I deemed it to be my duty to follow the lowest legal sub-division in the management of such maps, plats and tract books, and as a consequence, the Patents had to be issued in such a manner as to agree with the number, description and quantity, as shown by the plats and tract books. Any other course in relation to the arrangement of this matter, would have resulted in endless confusion and inextricable clashing of the entries and records. Thus to illustrate, suppose this office had went on under the provision of the law of 1852, and made up the plats and tract books in sub-divisions of eighty acres, and under the law of 1853 sales should have been made as they were, of sub-divisions of forty acres, what I respectfully ask would have prevented the interminable confusion which must necessarily have ensued in regard to the numbers of the certificates of sales, and the numbers, descriptions and quantity patented, and the records of the maps or plats and tract books.

It was impossible under the law, and the circumstances of the case, to have pursued any other course in reference to the correct patenting of said swamp lands, than the one which was pursued by this office. If the records should have been made in eighty acre sub-divisions as contemplated by the act of 1852, it would have saved this office one-half of the labor and vexation growing out of the forty acre sub-division required by the amendatory act of 1853.

These are the principal facts and points upon which the action of this office has been based in the discharge of the swamp land department, and in conclusion permit me to express the belief that in selling the swamp lands of the State in 40 acre parcels has been the means of swelling the swamp land fund to a great extent.

I have the honor to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN P. DUNN,

Auditor of State.

Resolved, That G. W. Chapman, having received the highest number of votes cast for Senator, at the election for said officer in the counties of Huntington and Wells, and having been in accordance with the second section of the 4th article of the constitution, chosen by the majority of the electors of that district to that office, has constitutionally a right to demand his seat in behalf the people who elected him.

Resolved, That the President of the Senate be directed to administer the oath of office to G. W. Chapman immediately.

The report was concurred in, and the bill ordered to be engrossed.

Leave being granted,

Mr. Rugg, Chairman of the Committee on the organization of Courts, made the following report :

MR. PRESIDENT :

The committee on the "organization of Courts" to whom was referred the resolution of the Senate in the words following, to-wit:

Resolved, That the committee on the Judiciary, be instructed to inquire into the propriety of abolishing the existing system of Common Pleas Courts; and that with a view thereto, they inquire into the comparative cost of said Common Pleas system, and a system of Circuit Courts sufficiently extensive to exercise all the jurisdiction now exercised by said Common Pleas Courts, with convenient dispatch, and make report in relation thereto, at an early day of the present session of the General Assembly.

Have had the same under consideration, and direct me to report that in the opinion of your committee, the said system of Common Pleas Courts cannot, with propriety, be abolished.

And the committee direct me further to report, that they have inquired into the comparative cost of the Common Pleas system, and an extended system of Circuit Courts, with a view to its being sufficiently extensive to exercise all the jurisdiction now exercised by said Courts of Common Pleas, and they find that so far as the pay to the judges of the respective courts furnishes data for such a comparison, that there are forty-four Common Pleas Districts, in which Districts the pay to judges varies from $500 to $800, the aggregate of which, as now allowed by law, amounts to $26,700; which sum, in the opinion of your committee is but little if any less than the sum which would be required to pay the judges of the Circuit Courts, if the system of said Courts should be sufficiently extended to exercise the whole jurisdiction now exercised by both of said Courts.

And further, your committee regard it as a measure impracticable to so extend the jurisdiction of the Circuit Courts, that its practical effect would be to place upon the dockets of said courts in some of the counties, over twelve hundred cases, which, in the opinion of your committee, is far too great a number for any one court to properly adjudicate upon at a single term.

And further, that although a change in the system like the one proposed might work a trifling saving to the public treasury, yet to parties litigant, it would greatly increase the costs, in this, that the prolongation of the terms of said courts to an extent sufficient to transact such an amount of business, would require such parties to remain in attendance from day to day, and week to week, with long lists of witnesses and heavy expenses incident to their attendance, which in many instances, would be very burdensome, if not ruinous to the parties entering said courts.

Your committee therefore respectfully ask the Senate to concur in this report, and to be discharged from the further consideration of said resolution,

Which report was concurred in.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. Shields, chairman of the committee on Elections, made the following report :

MR. PRESIDENT:

The committee on elections, to whom was referred the papers and certificates, in the case of the contested election from the county of Harrison, wherein Peter Glenn contests the seat of John Mathes, have had the same under consideration, and directed me to report as follows:

That it is the unanimous opinion of the committee, that the only evidence which they could consider, was that arising from the certificates issued by the clerk of said county of Harrison, the one dated November 15, 1854, which reads in the words and figures following, to-wit:

STATE OF INDIANA, { SS:
HARRISON COUNTY, }

I, Hugh Neely, of the Harrison Circuit Court in the Second Judicial Circuit of Indiana, do hereby certify, that agreeable to the certified returns made to my office, by the Board of Canvassers of the election, held in said county on the second Tuesday in October, A. D. 1854, Peter Glenn was by said Board declared duly elected Senator to the General Assembly of the State of Indiana.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name and affixed the seal of said county at Corydon, the 15th day of November, A. D. 1854.

The other dated December 29th, 1854, which reads in the words and figures following, to-wit:

STATE OF INDIANA, { SS:
HARRISON COUNTY, }

I, Hugh Neely, Clerk of the Harrison Circuit Court, do hereby certify that at the General Election, held in said county on the 10th day of October, 1854, it appears from the official tally papers and certificates of the proper boards of officers of said election in the respective townships of said county, duly returned and filed in my office, that at said election the official vote for John Mathes, Peter Glenn and George P. R. Wilson, the only opposing candidates for a seat in the Senate of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, was as follows, to-wit:

	John Mathes.	Peter Glenn.	G. P. R. Wilson.
In Harrison township.....	220	211	38
In Spencer township....	94	39	30
In Posey township.....	64	115	40
In Heth township.....	51	143	11
In Boone township.....	50	150	37
In Webster township.....	51	77	18

In Scott township.....	96	32	3
In Taylor township.....	12	91	42
In Washington township.....	46	78	32
In Blue River township.....	90	30	23
In Morgan township.....	119	75	6
In Franklin township.....	165	71	26
In Jackson township.....	118	55	14
	1176	1167	320

I, Hugh Neely, Clerk as aforesaid, further certify that the above are all the townships, and voting precincts of said county, and that the vote received by each candidate is placed under his name in the above table of townships.

[L. s.] In testimony whereof, I hereunto set my hand and affix the seal of said county at Corydon, the 29th day of December, A. D. 1854.

By reference to the certificates it will appear that the first one issued to said Peter Glenn, declares him duly elected as Senator; but the second certificate gives the full vote of every township, the number cast for each person, by which it appears that John Mathes received the largest vote cast for any person at said election for said office of Senator. The law made it the duty of said Board of Canvassers to have proclaimed said Mathes duly elected. Your committee are of opinion that the error occurred by said Board of Canvassers, transferring the result of the township tally papers to the County Canvass papers; but however it occurred, certain it is, that said Mathes received the highest vote cast for any individual for Senator.

The committee have therefore instructed me to make the foregoing report of the facts, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Mr. Slater moved the previous question;

Which was not seconded by the Senate.

On motion by Mr. Tarkington,

The further consideration of the report was postponed until Tuesday next at 10 o'clock, and made the special order for that hour in committee of the whole.

The Senate met.

Mr. Vandevanter, from the committee on Elections, made the following minority report in the contested seat from the county of Harrison :

Mr. PRESIDENT :

The undersigned, composing a minority of the committee on Elections, to whom, among other things, the disputed seat in this body for the county of Harrison, was referred, dissenting from the reasons and conclusions of a majority of the committee, respectfully make the following report, viz :

The undersigned, holding as a cardinal maxim of statesmanship, that the will of the majority asserts the only political right, and relying on its expression at the ballot box in the manner prescribed by law, as the only safe exponent of it, agree with the majority of the committee, that whether Glenn or Mathes is the legal Senator of that county, depends only, and ought to depend on which has received the legal majority of votes.

This question is not in any manner resolved by the action of the committee so far. It has only decided this one thing—that of two certificates of the clerk of that county, bearing different dates, the first legal and official, the last unofficial and unauthorized, the one in the performance of a legal clerical duty, the latter by private assumption only, and on account of which no legal or moral accountability is incurred, and wholly without pretext of law, the latter shall be paramount, and override rights created under the law. In other words, regarding the conclusion of the majority of Mathes over Glenn as foregone and absolute, on the faith of an unofficial and unsupported paper, the majority of the committee has accepted it, and anticipated investigation and desired it.

The real kernel has not yet been reached. This, as possibly in the case of all of us, waits further search, for the undersigned hold no doubt that if, even now, while we are holding our seats, it should be discovered that legal majorities for others had been obtained at the elections at which we were severally elevated to our present places, it is within the constitutional competency of the Senate to declare it, and eject us from our seats. This last conclusion exists indisputably under S. c. 10 of the 4th Article of the State Constitution, warranting each House of this General Assembly "to judge of the election, qualifications and returns of its own members."

For the language of the constitution does not indicate any certain time within which this power shall be used, and not being exclusive, allows this body, (and no law can control it,) to sit at all times, in judgment of the election and qualification of its members.

The undersigned, therefore, hold that this body may at all times, and under all circumstances, avail itself of the power delegated under the foregoing section and article, and consistently with its own judgment—not an arbitrary one, but curbed and restrained by considerations of law and right—retain or expel its members. The undersigned accordingly admit, that notwithstanding the certificate of election issued to Glenn on the 15th day of November, 1854, there being a total absence of contestation of his seat, yet this body may go behind it, and deny his legal election to it. The act of the General Assembly of May 4, 1852, embodied in the revised code, in its 5th and subsequent sections, provides, to be sure, for a contestation of the election of members of both branches. But this, the undersigned respectfully conceive, was not meant to control or qualify the action of this body, under the constitution. The entire right at all times and under every vicissitude of circumstances, to determine on the competency of its members, remains unimpaired by it. Even if the purpose were on the part of the last General Assembly to tie up the hands of their successors, and limit the trial of the election and qualification of its own members to this single prescribed mode, it cannot be doubted that it is wholly ineffectual for this purpose.

The act referred to seems to this portion of the committee, and a reference to its sections strongly affirms it—to contemplate only the following benefits: 1st, that to prevent a person of questionable right from taking his seat in the Legislature, or, in other words, to suspend the effect of his certificate of election irregularly obtained, until it can be tried and determined by the branch of the Legislature to which he may belong, a notice of contestation is allowed, and 2ndly, that as an early determination of the right to a seat, after the commencement of the session, is of high importance to the person elected, to his constituency, and necessary to the value of the elective franchise, in order to expedite such a trial, the law has legalized a mode of proofs, requiring them to be transmitted before a meeting of the Legislature, to the Secretary of State, that then, at once, the proper body may have them at control, to use them in "judging of the election and qualification of its members." To this extent, that is, 1st, wholly to suspend the function of the person holding the certificate of election, in case of contest, until the question has been determined, and 2d, to prescribe a mode of proofs, command their presence as soon as the Legislature sits, and expedite a trial, was within the province of the General Assembly to go; because within this limit they thus gave effect to the provisions of the constitution, that allow us to judge of the election and qualification of our members, and help us to facilities for its exercise, without in any manner impairing the power.

If these premises are correct the following conclusions are inevitable, viz: 1st, that a person holding a certificate of election to this body, in a case in which there is no contest, is, on the presentation of it, entitled to be sworn and take his seat. 2nd, that a person, though holding a certificate of election to this body, in a case in which a notice of contestation has been given, has, as a lawful consequence of the notice of contest, his functions suspended, until this body has acted upon it. Notice of contest having been given, the whole matter is res non adjudicata until trial. Or to apply it to this instance, though Glenn held the certificate of election, yet, had notice of contest been given under the act of May 4th, 1852, neither himself or Mathes would be entitled to a seat, until trial and judgment by this body. By such an act only, in such an instance, does the right become perfect. These conclusions are entirely consistent with past precedents in legislative bodies, maintaining as they do, that certificates of election are prima facie evidence of the right, but subject to be disputed, and, at length, countervailed and overthrown by other proofs.

In the present instance, Glenn holds the certificate of election. It has all the requisites and forms of law. It was obtained under all its solemn requirements. A board of canvassers of the county met under the appointment of law, and alone authorized to act in the premises, at an hour prescribed, in the most public place of the county, and under the eyes of all who saw fit to be present, in the language of 1 R. S. 264, Sec. 31, "canvassed and estimated the certificates, poll lists and tally papers returned by each member of the board" and arrived at its legal judgment, that by a majority of votes, Peter Glenn had been elected to a seat to this body. In certifying this judgment to the Senate, the clerk of the circuit court of Harrison county is only a clerical officer, executing an appointed duty under the law, and his certificate of election issued to Glenn is only a legal proclamation of the result. Since this time, no notice of contest has been signified to Glenn.

These facts make Glenn's certificate of election prima facie evidence of his right to a seat in this body. At his appearance here, he should have been sworn and admitted to his seat, in respectful submission to the solemn declaration of the law, only afterwards to be questioned, as this body by its own rules may prescribe. The first outrage to the franchises of the electors of Harrison county, had its perpetration here in an assumption of an unwarranted official prerogative on the part of the President of this body. In deference under the law to this incumbent, it may not honestly be disguised, that his proceedings in setting aside the certificate to Glenn, the legal patent of his right to a place among us, and giving faith to a wholly unwarranted paper, which for all legal purposes is as blank as if no words had ever been written on it, were anomalous and extraordinary. If in the case of Glenn and Mathes, he may sit in single judgment over the right, anticipating and forestalling the further action of this body, we all hold our seats by the tenure of his will, and survive in this honored presence, by no warrant of our constituency, but dwell on the tender mercies of the Lieut. Governor. The Lieut. Governor in this instance, has evidently mistaken and transgressed his power. The constitution allows him, in this character, to do these things—to preside over our deliberations—to speak and vote in committee of the whole, and to vote on an equal division. This defines within exact, narrow limits, the length and breadth of his authority. Whenever he goes beyond this, all his acts are private enterprises, or abuses of power; and whenever, as in this instance, he sets up his own single judgment as a private tribunal to try the competency and qualifications of those who may sit among us, which prerogative the constitution has ordained shall belong not to him, but to this body, he is clothed with authority borrowed at the expense of the dignity of this body and the constitution. Such acts of unwarrantable assumption of authority, for the time, may find apologists in the hucksters and small tradesmen in politics, who weigh the advantages of immediate success, got by violence done to popular sovereignty and the law, against the greater, though remoter advantages of observing faithfully the clear constitutional rule; but history, that severe truth-teller, will register the infamy of the act, and perhaps, at a later day, the justice of the retribution.

From this stand point, the undersigned humbly conceive that they can discern clearly the just and legal conclusion at which this body should arrive. The egregious usurpation in placing Mathes in a seat in this body by the presiding officer, has induced a natural error on the part of the majority of the committee. They speak of Glenn as the contestant and refer to the whole matter of the present submission, as that in which Peter Glenn contests the seat of John Mathes. Glenn is not the contestant. He is the legal incumbent by virtue of his uncontested certificate of election.

We respectfully repeat, that Glenn's certificate of election entitles him to present himself here, and receive his qualification in office. He has the prima facie legal right. For him there is nothing to contest. A land-holder in possession of his fee, and nobody questioning his titles, might as well be presumed to be impatiently pursuing the courts, in order to get them to decide on his rights.

It belonged to the board of canvassers of Harrison county, to declare who was elected to the State Senate from that county. They did so, and named Peter Glenn. But notwithstanding this there was a legal mode of contesting the right of the person so declared elected. The 5th section of 1 R. S. 270, provides that "if any elector chooses to contest the election of any person declared elected to a seat in the Senate or House of Representatives, he shall within ten days file his statement of the grounds of contest, &c." From this—and the undersigned are not aware of any other law on the subject, it is obvious,—1st. That Glenn cannot be a contestant; and secondly, that the committee has no evidence before them, that Mathes is himself competent, as an elector of Harrison county, to be contestant. He may have been voted for as an eliguee, but this in the absence of proof, raises no presumption with the undersigned, that he is an elector.

In the opinion of the undersigned, the matter referred to this committee is one only of inquiry. Glenn is now entitled to his seat, and the present reference is one of any doubts that may exist as to his right to it. This requires us to examine such proofs as are before the committee. And in conformity to sec. 13 of the act already referred to, we only regard as proofs such as are competent under the authority of law. Within this description of competent legal evidence, but a single matter, in the judgment of the undersigned, has been referred to this committee. This is the certificate of election issued and delivered to Peter Glenn. Judging the whole case on this evidence, Glenn is the Senator from Harrison county, and entitled to his seat.

It is admitted that there are before the committee two certificates of the clerk of that county. But the second is unofficial and wholly nugatory, because not prescribed by law. The majority of the committee is correct in saying that the whole proof before them is within these two papers, but incorrect in allowing it to be implied that the undersigned have regarded the latter as possessing any validity whatever.

This body will observe the careful and stately forms, by which such a result as this, under the law, is declared, and the prescribed observances are the evidence of the great value attached to it.

In the first place the election being concluded in the several precincts of the county, the certificates, poll-books and tally papers are delivered to the inspector, or some other judge of elections. On the Thursday succeeding the election day, and between 9 A. M. and 6 P. M., all of them proceed from their several townships to the county seat. There they meet publicly, a board of canvassers, a body warranted and recognized by law. They have a single duty to do, and this duty can be performed by no other persons. They cannot add to or diminish from their number. They cannot delegate their power to others. When met, one of their number is selected as chairman. The clerk of the circuit court sits by, sharing with them no judicial function, but the mere recorder of their doings, 1 R. S. 264, secs. 32, 33, 34. A statement is then drawn up containing "the names of the persons voted for, the office, the number of votes given, in each township and in the county, and the aggregate number of votes." This statement is then signed by each member of the board, and with certificates, tally-papers and poll-books, is delivered to the clerk to be filed.

And then, which is the 'single matter of importance in this case, the law makes the following clear and unmistakable provision, viz: "Such board shall declare the person having the highest number of votes given for any office to be filled by the voters of a single county, duly elected to such office, and certify the same in the statement above required." 1 R. S. 265, sec. 35. Thus it belongs to the board of canvassers only, to declare who has been elected. The clerk of the circuit court is present as a spectator, and finally becomes the custodian of the papers of the board, but he constitutes no further part of the machinery.

The result of the election having been in this manner declared, the law imposes a duty on the clerk. He is required within twenty days after the meeting of the board of canvassers, to deliver to the person so declared to be elected, his certificate of election: In this act he is only a clerical officer—here his duties end.

This deliberate judgment, so arrived at, can only be overthrown by a contestation as provided by law, or under the authority of this body.

The clerk's second certificate in this case, being out of time, out of form, beyond the province of his duty, and in no manner conformable to law, is only vanity. The imprint of the dumb seal of Harrison county on it, adds nothing to its dignity, nor authenticates its truth. It is given under no official responsibility, and, if all false, does not contradict his official oath, nor make him incur responsibility on his official bond. To give it any weight, allows the clerk to assume all the functions of the board of canvassers, revise their doings, and override their sworn declarations.

It may, as the statement of any private person may, create with us a suspicion of error, but still it lacks all the qualities of legal proof.

The committee have also before it, many volunteer affidavits of illegal votes given to Mathes, sufficient to determine the election in favor of Glenn. But though, in like manner creating suspicion, they do not rise to the dignity and character of proofs, and we therefore reject them. We rely only on the certificate of election given to Glenn.

The undersigned therefore, respectfully report the following resolution for the concurrence of the Senate.

ISAAC VANDEVANTER,
T. WILSON.

Resolved, That Peter Glenn by virtue of his certificate of election, is entitled to qualification and a seat in this body; and that any contestation that may arise between himself and John Mathes, shall hereafter be determined according to right and equity, of which this body is constitutionally the only judge.

On motion by Mr. Vandevanter,

The report was referred to the committee of the whole, to be considered in connection with the majority report from same committee, on the same subject.

The hour having arrived, the Senate resolved itself into a committee of the whole on the two reports from the committee on Elections, on the subject of the contested seat from the county of Harrison, Mr. Tarkington in the chair: and after spending some time in consideration thereof, the committee rose and submitted the following report through their chairman:

MR. PRESIDENT:

Resolved, That we do not endorse either the spirit or the letter of the elaborate report of the minority of the committee on elections, made in the contested case of Messrs. Mathes and Glenn. Yet out of respect to the committee and to avoid the charge of attempting to suppress what they may regard a fair statement of facts in the case, we consent to its going upon the journal.

The ayes and noes were demanded by Messrs. Witherow and Vandevanter.

Those who voted in the affirmative were,

Messrs. Barnett, Brookshire, Brown, Crane, Cutshaw, Drew, Ensey, Glazebrook, Hawthorn, Hosbrook, Hostetler, Jackson of Madison, Jackson of Tipton, Kightley, McCleary, McDowell, Mansfield, Richardson of St. Joseph, Richardson of Spencer, Rugg, Shields, Shook, Slater and Spann—24.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. Anthony, chairman of the committee on the Judiciary, made the following report:

Mr. PRESIDENT:

The committee on the judiciary to whom was referred a resolution of the Senate "to enquire into the expediency of providing by law for constituting a council to be composed of officers of State, without whose advice and consent, the Governor shall not have power to grant pardons in any case, except such as may be by law left to his sole power," have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report that any legislation on that subject is inexpedient.

The report was concurred in.

Mr. Anthony, chairman of the committee on the judiciary, made the following report :

MR. PRESIDENT:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The committee on the Judiciary to whom was referred No. 3, a joint resolution of the Senate entitled "a joint resolution memorializing Congress on the subject of the township school fund," which seeks to obtain an enactment by the Congress of the United States, enabling the State of Indiana to consolidate the fund commonly known as the congressional township fund into a common school fund for the support of schools, at large, throughout the State, have had the same under consideration, and are of opinion that the fund arising from the sale of the 16th section in each congressional towaship, granted to the inhabitants thereof by act of Congress of April 19th, 1816, for the use of schools, has become so vested in the inhabitants of the several townships where the lands were situate, that the grantor cannot now divert the fund from the original design or change the conditions of the grant; and that those conditions having been fully complied with, it may well be regarded in the light of an executed contract, between the grantor and the grantees, not subject to any modifications without the concurrence of both parties. If this view of the case be correct, then these conclusions must inevitably follow, viz: 1st, that Congress cannot, directly, divert the fund from its original design, and 2ndly, that Congress cannot authorize the State to do that which she is impotent to accomplish herself.

Your committee, therefore, being of opinion that in either case Congress has no power, under the constitution of the United States, to afford the relief sought by the joint resolution, have instructed me to report the same back and recommend its indefinite postponement.

The report was concurred in, and the joint resolution indefinitely postponed.

By Mr. Slater:

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. Shields, chairman of the committee on Elections, made the following report :

MR. PRESIDENT:

The committee on elections to whom was referred the case of the contested election between George W. Chapman and George McDowell, in which said Chapman contests the seat of said McDowell in the Senate of the present General Assembly of Indiana, have instructed me to report as follows, to-wit:

That they examined the certificate of said McDowell as Senator, and found it to be in accordance with the provisions of the law. That when the committee first met, there was before them no evidence on which an opinion could be based, except this certificate, and thereupon the parties themselves requested that time might be allowed to send for papers and persons. That time was granted and the case was fully heard on both sides. It appears upon examination of witnesses, and tally papers, poll books, and returns of the respective precincts, that in Wells county said McDowell received 671 votes, and said Chapman 594 votes, as returned by the proper officers. It further appeared, that from some cause unknown to the committee, no return was made from Polk township in said county of the votes there cast, and that at said township said Chapman received 83 votes, and said McDowell 31 votes. It also appeared that in the county of Huntington, said McDowell received 787 votes, and said Chapman received 844 votes. A majority of the committee considered that the election in Polk township was legally held, and the proceedings were according to law, and that the votes cast at said township should not be rejected on account of the failure to make a legal return.

The votes of said township being admitted, it was found that said Chapman had received a majority of all the votes cast, of 42 votes. In the opinion of the committee, there were a number of illegal votes cast in Huntington county, but not a sufficient number to change the result, whichever party they may have been cast for.

In view of these facts, the majority of the committee recommend that the seat of said George McDowell be vacated, and that said George W. Chapman be admitted to the same, as Senator from the counties of Huntington and Wells.

On motion by Mr. Slater,
The report was laid on the table.

Mr. Slater, from the committee on elections, made the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The committee on elections to whom was referred Senate bill No. 84 entitled "an act amending Sec. 11, of Chapt. 31, of the Revised Statutes of 1852, relative to the making out and furnishing to the several inspectors of elections, poll books, tally papers, &c." have had the same under consideration, and have instructed me to report back the same and recommend its passage, also to amend the title by adding thereto the following, to-wit: "And providing compensation for said services."

The report was concurred in, amendments adopted, and bill ordered to be engrossed.

Mr. Richardson of Joseph, chairman of the committee on corporations, made the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The committee on corporations, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 12, "a bill to authorize two or more boards of trustees of high schools, academies, colleges or universities, to assume a common name, consolidate their property, sue and be sued, contract and be contracted with, and to transact their business under such common name," have had the same under consideration. As a house bill, identical in effect and language with this, has been reported to and passed by the Senate, I am directed to return the bill to the Senate, and to ask that it be laid on the table.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. Slater, from the committee on Elections, made the following report:

The minority of the committee on elections, to whom was referred the case of the contest of the election of George McDowell to a seat in the Senate from the district of Huntington and Wells, by Isaac D. Long, submit that in the consideration of this case they find in proof the following facts, to-wit:

This is a proceeding in which Isaac D. Long, as a voter of said Senatorial district, seeks to contest the election of George McDowell as Senator, under the provisions of an act entitled "an act to provide for contesting the election to any State, district, circuit, county, or township officer," approved May 4th, 1852. There is in proof before the committee the joint certificate of the Sheriffs of Huntington and Wells counties in one form of law certifying that George McDowell is duly elected Senator from said district, which said district is composed of the counties above of Huntington and Wells. In support of the contest the following documentary evidence was offered, (to-wit:) the certificate of the board of canvassers of Wells county, also the certificate of the board of canvassers of Huntington county, and the poll books and tally papers of Polk township in Huntington county, from which it appeared that in the county of Wells, George McDowell received 671 votes for Senator, that one George W. Chapman received 594 votes for the same office, that in the county of Huntington George McDowell received 787 votes, George W. Chapman received 844 vote, in Polk township McDowell received 21 votes and said Chapman 83. The contestor also proved by Sheriff of Wells county that written notice was served on McDowell, another paper in the letter with the notice but knew not the contents of the other paper. By agreement of the parties it was admitted that the election in Polk township was regular and that the vote thereof had not been canvassed by the board of canvassers. The contestee then proved by Mr. Milligan that there were a large number of votes given by railroad hands, that were not citizens or entitled to vote. They professed to come from Ohio and left the day after election. Most of them, between 25 and 30, voted at that poll. In addition, 4 others who were not entitled to vote voted at that poll, 3 of them voted for Chapman and the other he does not know how he voted. In addition there were seven or eight of these railroad men who were not legal voters as they claim and was generally understood in Union township, and they say that they had voted the whig ticket. Mr. Loughridge corroborates the testimony but fixes the number of foreign votes at from 30 to 40. Chesebrough proves one illegal vote given in Dallas township voted whig ticket. Mahon proves that there were from 15 to 20 illegal votes polled in Jackson township in said county of Huntington, and he understood they voted for Chapman. Mr. Wiley proves that he knew of 15 or 20 illegal votes given in Huntington township and supposed they voted the fusion ticket. Thus stands the facts of the case. Mr. McDowell holds his seat in this body by a legal certificate. The contestee, Mr. Delong, comes in to avail himself of the privilege given by statute to every voter in the State, under certain regulations, to contest the election of any officers for whom he had the right to vote. This being a special proceeding under the statute and differing materially from those ordinary cases where both of the parties are claimants for the seat in your body, and are entitled to the courtesies due to Senators, the undersigned have thought it prudent to examine whether analagous proceedings should obtain, and the precedent set in ordinary contests between claimants for the same office govern in this case, and have come to the conclusion and so report that in the opinion of the undersigned the law providing for the contests of the election of members of either House of the General Assembly by a voter shall be construed and interpreted as other statutes are construed and interpreted, and that the rules of law and procedure which govern courts and other tribunals invested with power to inquire and determine upon facts and law, should be applied to the construction of that statute, and that the construction of the statute in making the Senate the judge of the election and qualification of its members could never have been intended to throw into worse than anarchy that body by absolving them from all obligations to the rules of law and established usage. The undersigned have come to this conclusion: That when the Senate sits in judgment upon the qualification of its members it so sits in a judicial and not in a legislative capacity, and more especially is it so when a voter comes before that body and asks to be heard by virtue of a law given by statute to him as such voter under particular restrictions.

The constitution of the State of Indiana makes no provision for the case now under consideration. It is a creature of the Statute, a special privilege to a particular class, a voter and none other, can by that law, come before the Senate and ask to be heard in opposition to the claims of a Senator to his right upon this floor. That this is the case, cannot be reasonably doubted, for no one will contend that it is at all necessary for the claimant of a seat held by another, to give notice and go through with all that statutory preliminary before the Senate could entertain his case. Therefore, in the opinion of the undersigned, the contestor in this case, desiring all his powers in the premises from the law that he is bound to pursue his remedy in the mode pointed out by the Statute, at least substantially. That any other course is calculated to lead to confusion, take up the time of the Senate examining witnesses, burthens the State with the expense of sending to distant parts thereof for persons, when the whole matter with a very little cost, can be better attended to, if the Statute be strictly pursued, and the whole evidence taken before the tribunal pointed out by the Statute—and entertaining these views, the undersigned have felt it their duty to inquire how far the provisions of the Statute have been complied with by the contestor, and beg leave to say your committee have not been furnished with satisfactory proof that any of the provisions of the Statute have been complied with. The 5th section of that Statute says, that any such elector who may choose to contest the election of any person declared elected to a seat in the Senate, &c., shall, within ten days after such election, file with the clerk of the circuit court of the county in which the alleged cause of contest originated, a statement, &c. Your committee were furnished with no evidence to show that this section of the Statute had been complied with. It is true, there was among the papers in the case, one, purporting to be a statement of the grounds of contest upon which Mr. De-long relied, but it was not certified or proven in any manner, that the same was ever filed in the clerk's office of the county in which the cause originated. Nor has the 6th section of said act, which requires the clerk to issue his commission to two justices of the peace to take depositions, been complied with, or if so, the committee were not furnished with any evidence of the fact. Nor have the provisions of the 7th section of said act been complied with, in serving the contestee with a copy of the statement of the grounds of contest certified by the clerk. Nor has the provisions of the 10th, 11th or 13th sections of said act been complied with; at least the committee have no evidence before them, from which they could infer a compliance. The undersigned would, in view of all the facts of this case, beg leave to dissent from the report of the majority of said committee, and inasmuch as the evidence before the committee shows that a large number of illegal votes were given at said election, the undersigned feel called upon to examine into the character and sufficiency of that branch of the testimony, and in doing so due regard was had to the law and known rules of evidence in other cases—one of which rules is, that the best evidence the nature of the case admits of, shall be given—which gives rise to the inquiry, what is the best evidence to prove the residence of these men, who are proven to have voted at that election, as well as for whom they voted? It is an admitted principal of law, that character, birth, nationality, residence, &c., may be proved by reputation, and it is equally well settled, that secondary evidence is admitted in the absence of primary. In this case, is in proof that 30 or 40 men voted at the polls in Huntington township, in Huntington county, who, from the time and manner of their coming there, their professions when they come, of their former place of residence, and the reputation they established among the people there in reference to their right to vote, authorize the undersigned to conclude that they were not legal votes; and it is in proof that these men left that country shortly after said election, thus putting it out of the power of the parties to this case, or the Senate, to procure any better species of testimony. The same facts are proven with reference to those 7 or 8 who voted in Union township, as well as the 15 or 20 who voted in Jackson township. Those votes when counted together, and added to the 4 resident voters in Huntington township who had not been in the State six months immediately preceeding the election, and the boatmen who voted in Dallas township, will swell the number of illegal votes much beyond the majority claimed for Mr. Chapman. The undersigned would also say that although it is not clearly proven for whom those illegal votes were given, yet, from the evidence before the committee, there is a strong tendency to the conclusion that they were given for Mr. Chapman. Therefore, inasmuch, as it is impossible to determine with certainty who had the greatest number of legal votes for Senator in said district, the undersigned would recommend to the Senate, to refer the question back to the people of the district to be determined by them at an election.

On motion by Mr. Shields,
The report was laid on the table.

Mr. Cravens, from a select committee, made the following REPORT.

MR. PRESIDENT :

The committee appointed on the part of the Senate, in conjunction with a similar committee on behalf of the House of Representatives, to investigate the condition of the Free Banking System of the State, so far as the same is connected with the office of Auditor of State, beg leave to submit the following report :

Your committee in entering upon the discharge of the duties assigned it, encountering at the outset an amount of labor, in the performance of which so much of the time of its members would have been consumed, as would materially have conflicted with prior engagements and duties in their respective houses, upon consultation deemed it advisable to employ the services of competent and experienced individuals to examine the books of the Auditor, and ascertain the amount of the circulation and securities of the several banks. With this view the joint committee waited upon Dr. E. W. H. Ellis, Mr. Jno. Hunt and Mr. J. R. Slack, gentlemen in whose experience, integrity, and candor, your committee felt assured, the Legislature and the public would have that confidence, which should be deemed an essential element in the discharge of so high and important a trust.

The two first named gentlemen—the latter finding it inconvenient to remain—addressed themselves to the investigation, and, for the better part of fifteen days, labored assiduously in the work assigned them. They have faithfully examined the books, papers, securities, and circulation of the banks as found in the Auditor's office, and, with the explanations of the Auditor and his assistants, which explanations were occasionally rendered necessary from the imperfect method or system of book-keeping adopted in the banking department, concluded their labors and returned to the committee the accompanying document, with the abstracts and tables therein contained, which comprises as brief and complete an exhibit as the records and files in the office could furnish.

In this exhibit will be found statements of the gross amount of the circulation of each bank, the amount returned and canceled, the outstanding circulation, together with the amount and kind of the collaterals deposited, the amounts and kind surrendered, and the amount and character of the securities yet remaining in possession of the Auditor.

The following securities of ninety-one banks were carefully examined, counted and handed over to the present Auditor, to-wit:

Indiana 5 per cents.....	$1,820,000
Indiana 2½ per cents.....	554,015
Virginia 6 per cents.....	1,314,000
Missouri 6 per cents.....	233,000
Louisiana 6 per cents.....	696,000
Georgia 6 per cents.....	31,500
Georgia 7 per cents.....	35,500
Kentucky 6 per cents.....	52,500
Ohio 6 per cents.....	9,000
Tennessee 5 per cents.....	9,000
Tennessee 6 per cents.....	9,000
North Carolina 6 per cents.....	97,000
Pennsylvania 5 per cents	81,000
Total.....	<hr/> $4,941,515

The coupons for January, from nearly all the coupon bonds, have been cut off, and in a few of the banks the proceeds have been invested in additional securities, but for the most part these coupons have been delivered to the proprietors of the banks.

The Indiana bonds are issued in the name of the Auditor of State for the use of the bank making the deposit; but the coupon bonds issued for the State bank, and those of other States, are payable to bearer without endorsement, consequently there is no security, in case of loss, against their transfer to, or use by other parties. This danger is further increased by the fact, that there is no register of the date or number of these bonds in the office of the Auditor of State.

In the abstracts and tables will be found the condition of each bank at the date of examination—embracing a period between the 25th January and the 10th of February. The statements of circulation are taken wholly from the books of the Auditor, the gentlemen making the investigation having no means for ascertaining the accuracy of the contents of the books so examined. At the request of your committee, those gentlemen addressed circulars to the several banks, requesting their officers to furnish them with a statement of their original and present circulation, together with their original and present securities, as also the disposition of the coupons surrendered; but up to the time of the conclusion of their labors in this investigation there had not been received a single answer, consequently your committee is without the information necessary to the verification of the exhibit herein make.

In some instances the books show quite an excess of security, while in others there is a small excess of circulation. In some of the former, the Auditor informs us that the proprietors of banks, in favor of which the securities largely preponderate, hold his receipts for circulation returned, of which latter nothing is made to appear on the books in his office. Among the latter, or those banks having an excess of circulation, may be mentioned the Elkhart County Bank at Goshen, which has \$1,425 more of circulation than security; the Bank of Syracuse, at Syracuse, an excess of \$2,338; the Bank of Warsaw, at Warsaw, \$1,974; while a number of others have an excess of circulation over collaterals, sums varying from fifty dollars up to six and eight hundred dollars. It will also be borne in mind, that the securities named in the abstract and tables, are estimated at their par value, including also, the $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. bonds of this State. In estimating the securities of banks, and set down in this report as having an unsecured or insufficient circulation, the committee has calculated the $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cents at 55 cents to the dollar, that being the average rate at which they were deposited. In several instances, too, it will be seen that parties returning paper for cancellation have been permitted to withdraw a greater amount of security; yet it is but just to the Auditor to add that this has only occurred, so far as the committee has examined into the facts, in those cases where the collaterals deposited have largely exceeded the paper issued.

In one instance, as will be seen by reference to the accompanying abstracts, paper to the amount of $12,103 was issued to the Merchants' Bank at Springfield, without any legitimate security, six thousand of which have been retired and canceled; but the Merchants' Bank at Lafayette has a surplus of Indiana 5 per cent. bonds which, it is said, is designed to cover the outstanding circulation of $6,103 of the Merchants' Bank of Springfield.

The committee would also call the attention of the Legislature to the present mode of returning and canceling the notes issued, which, from its great looseness, is exceedingly hazardous to both banker and the public, and, in the opinion of your committee, requires immediate attention, as also additional safeguards to be imposed by the Legislature, Auditor, or both.

Another source of complaint, to which, doubtless, much of the impaired confidence of the public in the system may, or might very appropriately, be assigned, has been the practice of surrendering the most valuable securities, while those of less value have been left for the redemption of the outstanding circulation. It is for the General Assembly to decide whether this preference shall continue to be given to those who are most prompt in enforcing their demands, to the banker who avails himself of the voluntary suspension of his bank, and the general panic thereby created among the holders of its bills, to purchase his notes at a depreciated rate, or by positive enactments, prohibit the practice, and thus protect the innocent holders of bank paper, who, relying alone upon the integrity of the law for that security which the welfare of the most humble citizen is entitled to, may have neglected or been unable to acquire that information so familiar to the banker and broker, and so indispensable to the protection of all from individual loss.

The abstracts furnish us with the following totals :

Total amount of circulation issued	$9,502,330
Total circulation retired and canceled	4,920,497
Balance circulation outstanding	4,581,833
Total securities at their par value	4,941,515

Respectfully submitted:

Chairman of Senate Committee.

HON. JOHN R. CRAVENS,

Chairman of the Joint Committee :

The undersigned, appointed by said committee to make examination of the Auditor's office, in relation to the banking department, as a supplement to their former communication on the subject would report the following :

In pursuance to instructions received from said committee, immediately on their appointment submitted to the cashier of each bank in the State the annexed interrogatories, and requested an answer thereto, verified by affidavit, but which, up to this time, have been responded to by only fifteen out of the whole number of banks organized in the State. Whether the interrogatories were not received by those failing to answer, or whether they were unable to give a satisfactory reply thereto, we are not advised.

Such of their statements as we have received are herewith submitted.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN HUNT,
E. W. H. ELLIS,

Mr. Brown, from the committee on the judiciary, made the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT :

The committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred Senate bill No 137, "a bill to legalize the acknowledgment of all deeds and mortgages and other instruments require^d to be recorded, taken and certified by the clerks of the circuit courts of this State, after the reception of the Revised Statutes of 1852, in their respective counties," have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report it back without amendment, and recommend its passage.

The report was concurred in, and the bill ordered to be engrossed.

Mr. Brown, chairman of the committee on Benevolent Institutions of the State, made the following report :

MR. PRESIDENT :

The Committee on Benevolent Institutions have visited the Indiana Hospital for the Insane, the Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb, and the Institute for the Education of the Blind, and have instructed me to submit the following report in reference to the condition of those Institutions respectively :

THE INDIANA HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE.

The committee are highly gratified to be able to bear their testimony in favor of the care and skill manifested in the treatment of the patients of this Institution and of the success of the officers in their efforts to add to the comfort and improve the condition of that unfortunate class of beings who are placed for relief within its walls. They have visited the grounds and buildings and are satisfied from their inspection that everything connected with the Institution is managed with care and prudence, and that it is in a condition of increasing prosperity. They cannot too highly commend it to the fostering care and liberality of the General Assembly. It stands a monument of the wise benevolence of Indiana, proving that, in her onward march to greatness, she has not turned a deaf ear to the calls of her suffering citizens.

The financial affairs of the Hospital urgently require the attention of the present General Assembly.

There will be needed to repay amounts borrowed from the Sinking Fund for the Hospital Buildings, and to complete the south wing, $31,237 11; to repay amount borrowed from the State Bank for current expenses up to October 31st, 1854, and for the same up to April 1st, 1855, $14,333 30; to support the Hospital and to keep up ordinary repairs from April 1st, 1855, to April 1, 1856, $30,000; for the same purposes from April 1, 1856, to April 1, 1857, $30,000; for expenses of erection of the north wing for the year 1855, $25,000; for expenses of the same for the year 1856, $30,000; for furnishing south wing when completed, $4,000. Total needed, $164,570 41.

The south wing will be completed by the first of April, 1855, and will then be ready for the admission of patients. The Hospital will then accommodate two hundred and twenty-five patients. There are, already on file, a great many applications for admission, which are daily increasing in number. The demands for the completion of the north wing are imperative. There are already collected materials and improvements for the north wing, valued at $4,292 50, which will be useless without the appropriations be made which are asked for above. The committee would recommend that an appropriation be made for the purchase of a library, as reading is found to be a great auxiliary in the cure of patients. Airing courts are also required to be attached to the buildings, in which patients may seek fresh air, exercise and amusement.

The committee offer the preceding recommendations, in all confidence that the present Legislature will continue that system of munificent benevolence which has already been productive of such incalculable benefits to the people of this State. It is an ascertained fact that insanity increases in the same ratio with the advancement of improvements, the accumulation of the luxuries of life, and the general spread of all those fanatical, religious and political principles which characterize the age. Several of the States have two, three and even four asylums for the insane. It behooves us to provide liberally for the unfortunate who are bereft of the distinguishing characteristic of humanity, reason. They are helpless themselves, but by means of the Hospital for the Insane may return to the bosom of their families, and their duties as citizens, living examples of the wisdom and benevolence of their State. Your committee feel convinced that no parsimonious feeling will prevent the present Legislature from responding to the loud calls of suffering humanity.

THE INDIANA INSTITUTE FOR THE BLIND.

The committee are pleased to express their gratification at the condition in which they found the Institute for the Blind. The Institution is managed by competent gentlemen, of whose skill and attention proofs were seen in the progress of the pupils, and the general good order and discipline of the establishment. It is a humane duty which the State owes to those bereft of vision, to provide them with the means of ensuring their future usefulness, and this duty is nobly fulfilled in the Indiana Institute for the Blind. The Institution has already accomplished a great deal of good and its sphere is continually increasing, while the demands on the benevolence of the State increase in proportion as its good effects are seen. Referring members to the able reports of the Superintendent and trustees for particulars, the committee content themselves with recommending the following appropriations:

For the payment of loans from the Sinking Fund, . . .	$21,334 15
For salaries of resident officers,	3,500 00
For current expenses for first year,	14,450 00
For current expenses for second year,	15,450 00
For ordinary expenses from 1st of November, 1854, to 1st of April, 1855,	4,000 00
For heating apparatus,	4,000 00
For repairing drying room, laundry, cooking range, &c, . . .	300 00
For painting the buildings,	1,500 00
For painting the fence,	300 00
For enclosing 4 acre lot,	450 00
For one double banked organ	1,800 00
For two seven octave pianos	700 00
Total needed up to April 1, 1857,	$67,784 15

THE INDIANA INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB.

The committee visited this Institution and carefully inquired into its condition and wants, and they are prepared to report that its management is such as meets their entire approbation. The educational, domestic, and financial departments are in a most prosperous and satisfactory condition, and give evidence of a high degree of skill and faithfulness on the part of those who have charge of them. The system of instruction pursued, the regimen adopted, and the discipline exercised appear admirably adapted to the development in the highest degree of which pupils are susceptible, their intellectual, moral, and physical natures, and to the acquisition of correct habits and proper deportment. The trades introduced, coopering and shoemaking, are well adapted to the condition of the deaf and dumb. It is confidently believed that the department of trades will support itself, and even leave a small revenue for the State. The committee consider it inexpedient to alter the present system of accounts, &c. They concur with the Board of Trustees that the verandas on the west front of the north and south wings should be completed as originally intended. The committee are of decided opinion that the Institution should be lighted by gas.

The committee recommend the following appropriations to be made :

For current expenses to April 1, 1855,	$5,000 00
For current expenses from April 1, 1855, to April 1, 1856,	20,000 00
For current expenses from April 1, 1856, to April 1, 1857,	20,500 00
Introduction of gas	2,500 00
For completing Verandas	2,500 00
Total needed to April 1, 1857,	$50,500 00

The committee do not agree with the recommendation of the Governor in his message, "that the management of the affairs of the three Benevolent Institutions be placed under the control of one set of trustees, not exceeding five in number." They find the present system under which those Institutions are managed, entirely satisfactory, and recommend that it be continued unchanged. In conclusion, the committee congratulate the Senate on the prosperous condition of the three Benevolent Institutions, and express the confident hope that the action of this body on the foregoing recommendations will tend to increase that prosperity.

The report was laid on the table and 500 copies ordered to be printed.

Said bank shall purchase and take all the capital stock the State now owns or possesses in the present State bank of Indiana, and pay for the same, in the manner hereinafter provided, the full amount which the same shall produce when converted into money, and paid over by the present State bank in the winding up and liquidation of its business, or which it may be found to be worth or to produce if the State shall at any time hereafter choose to appoint commissioners to ascertain the value of the same, or by any other mode to cause the same to be liquidated sooner, or by other means than those that may be adopted by the present State bank of Indiana.

SEC. 85. In payment for said stock said bank shall pay, take up and return to the State such an amount of the original bank bonds issued by the State for banking purposes, at par, as shall be equal to the value of the State's interest on stock in the present State Bank of Indiana and its branches, when ascertained as aforesaid ; said bank having the same privileges in regard to the redemption of said bonds as to time and manner of payment, that the State now has, and as a compensation to the State for the advantages which will accrue to the bank from such mode of payment, there shall be deducted from the dividends, and retained in bank each year, the sum of ten cents on each share of stock, which shall be paid to the State in such manner as the General Assembly shall direct, for the purposes of common school education ; and any excess which said stock shall be found to produce over and above the amount of all such outstanding bank bonds, shall be paid to the Treasurer of State when said stock shall be converted into money, and said bank, when organized, shall become liable for, and shall pay such outstanding bank bonds to the amount aforesaid, in the manner aforesaid, and the right to said stock shall be vested in said bank ; and until the value of said stock is ascertained as aforesaid, said bank shall provide for and furnish to the commissioners of the sinking fund, or such other officers as the State may at any time designate, the funds to pay the accruing interest on all said bank bonds outstanding from the dividends on said stock, or, otherwise, if the same should be insufficient, at the times and places when and where it may be necessary to pay such interest, or in such manner as the said fund commissioners, or other proper officers may require, and if, when the exact value of the State's stock shall be ascertained as aforesaid, it shall be found to be less than the amount of the outstanding bonds, the amount of interest which said bank shall have paid over and above the interest on the amount of bonds so to be paid by her, shall be deducted from the amount of bonds so to be paid by said bank.

Strike out section 101 and insert as follows:

SEC. 101. Inasmuch as it is desirable that the commissioners appointed by this act shall be qualified and perform their duties, without delay, it is declared that an emergency exists in this case, and this act shall be in force and take effect from and after its publication in one or more newspapers published in the city of Indianapolis.

Mr. Alexander, chairman of the committee on Banks, made the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The committee on Banks, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 86. "A bill to authorize the business of banking, and to repeal all former acts on that subject," have had the same under consideration, and directed me to report the same back with the following amendments and recommend its passage:

Strike out from the enacting clause and insert as follows—

SEC. 2. Any number of persons not less than eleven, a majority of whom shall be resident citizens of this State, having in the opinion of the Governor, Secretary, and Treasurer of State, complied with the necessary provisions of this act, as hereinafter specified, may make application to the Auditor of State, who shall cause to be engraved and printed in the best manner to guard against fraud and counterfeiting such quality of circulating notes, in the similitude of bank notes, in blank of the different denominations hereinafter authorized to be issued, as may from time to time be needed to meet the demands of those organizations, for the purposes of banking, and as may correspond with the receipt of the Treasurer of State as hereinafter stated; but the provisions of this section as to the number of stock holders, shall not apply to any of the banks established under the act referred to, an act entitled "an act to authorize and regulate the business of general banking," approved May 28th, 1852, which have redeemed their notes in specie in accordance with this act.

SEC. 3. Nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prevent any banking association from procuring their own plates, dies, and other materials for engraving and printing blank notes and furnishing them to the Auditor.

SEC. 4. Such bank notes in blank so procured, or placed in the hands of the Auditor as aforesaid, shall be of the denominations usually issued by banks, from five dollars to five hundred dollars; but such notes shall not be of any intermediate number between five and ten dollars, ten and twenty, twenty and fifty, or fifty and one hundred dollars; Provided however, That no banking association under this act, shall be authorized to issue bills for circulation of less denomination than five dollars.

SEC. 5. Such blank circulating notes, shall be countersigned by such Auditor, and numbered and registered in proper books to be kept for that purpose, in his office and under his direction, by such persons as the Auditor shall appoint, so that each denomination of such circulating notes shall all be of the same similitude, and bear the uniform signature of such Auditor and Register.

SEC. 6. Whenever any association of persons formed under this act, shall legally transfer to the Treasurer of State, fifty thousand dollars worth of stocks or bonds, such as hereinafter specified, such association of persons shall be entitled to receive from the said Auditor, for every one hundred and sixteen dollars worth of stocks or bonds thus transferred, and deposited, only one hundred dollars in notes of different denominations, registered and countersigned as aforesaid, to be used by them in the usual course of banking business, as money, except as provided in section — of this act.

SEC. 7. Such stocks shall consist of any portion of the public debt now created or hereafter to be created, by the United States, or by this State, and chargeable on the treasury, or such other States of the Union, as pay interest semi-annually, or at any less period on their public debt; but such public debt shall in all cases be, or be made to be equal to a stock producing six per cent. per annum, and it shall not be lawful for the Treasurer to take any stock at a rate above its par value, nor above its market value: Provided, That whenever any State, whose stock is pledged in whole or in part for the redemption of its circulation, shall fail or neglect to pay interest on such bonds or stocks semi-annually, or at any less period, then such association shall be required to withdraw the said stocks so failing to pay interest, and to substitute for the same the stocks of interest paying States, or else surrender an amount of its notes equal to the amount of stocks so required to be withdrawn.

SEC. 8. Such association of persons are hereby authorized, after having executed and signed such circulating notes in the manner required by law to make them obligatory promissory notes, payable on demand at the place of business, as hereinafter specified, within this State, of such association, to loan and circulate the same as money according to the ordinary course of banking business, as regulated by the laws and usages of this State.

SEC. 9. In case the makers of any such circulating notes, countersigned and registered as aforesaid, shall at any time hereafter, on lawful demand, at the place of business specified in such note, during the usual hours of banking business, as hereinafter mentioned, fail or refuse to redeem such note or notes, in the lawful money of the United States, the holder of such note or notes, making such demand, may cause the same to be protested for non-payment, by a Notary Public, in the usual manner, and the Auditor on receiving and filing in his office such protest, shall forthwith give written notice to the association who issued such notes, to pay the same, and if such association shall not immediately do so, the Auditor shall without delay, (unless he shall be satisfied that there is a good and legal defense against the payment of such note or notes,) give notice in one of the newspapers published in Indianapolis, that all circulating notes issued by such association, will be redeemed out of the stocks held by him for that purpose, and it shall be lawful for the Auditor to apply the said trust funds belonging to the makers of such protested notes, to the payment and redemption of such notes with the costs of protest, and to adopt such measures for the payment of all such circulating notes, put in circulation by the makers of such protested notes, pursuant to the provisions of this act, as will, in the opinion of the Governor, Treasurer, and Secretary of State or a majority of them, most effectually prevent loss to the holders thereof.

SEC. 10. The Auditor shall give any association, so transferring stock in pursuance of the provisions of this act, powers of attorney to receive interest or dividends thereon, which such association may receive and apply to their own use; but such powers may be revoked, upon such association failing to redeem the notes so issued, or whenever in the opinion of the Auditor, Governor, Treasurer, and Secretary of State. or a majority of them, the principal of such stock shall become an insufficient security: said Auditor also, at the instance of the owners of such stock so transferred in trust as aforesaid, may in his discretion change or transfer the same for other stock of the same kind specified above in this act, or shall re-transfer the said stocks or any part thereof, upon receiving and cancelling an equal of such circulating notes, delivered by him to such association in such manner, that the circulating notes shall always be secure in full by such stocks, and shall not be reduced or withdrawn as aforesaid, below the value of fifty thousand dollars' worth of stocks of any association.

SEC. 11. The bills or notes so to be countersigned and the payment of which shall be so secured as aforesaid shall be stamped on their face, "Secured by the pledge of public stock."

SEC. 12. Nothing in this act contained shall be considered as implying any pledge on the part of the State for the payment of said bills or notes beyond the proper application of the securities pledged with the Treasurer for their redemption; nor shall anything herein contained be construed to empower any association to conduct or carry on the business of banking at any other than the place of business of such banking association, which place of business shall, in every instance, be the same at which their bank bills respectively are made payable.

SEC. 13. Public stock to be deposited with the Treasurer by any such association shall be held by him exclusively for the redemption of the bills or notes of such association, put in circulation as money until the same are paid, and shall in no case be held for the benefit of any depositor or other person having business with such banking association until after the issue of said bank is redeemed.

SEC. 14. The plates, dies and materials to be procured by the Auditor, or by any other person for the printing and making of the circulating notes, provided for hereby, shall be placed in the custody and under the direction of the Treasurer; and the expenses necessarily incurred in executing the provisions of this act, shall be audited and settled by the Auditor, and paid out of any moneys in the treasury, not otherwise appropriated, and for the purpose of reimbursing the same, the said Auditor is hereby authorized and required to charge against and receive from such association applying for such circulating notes, such rate per cent. thereon, as may be sufficient for that purpose, or as may be fixed by law.

SEC. 15. All plates, dies, and such like materials of, and peculiar to any banking association, which shall have closed business either by its own voluntary act or by operation of law as prescribed in sections 9 and 50 of this act, shall be in the presence of the said Governor, Treasurer, Secretary, and Auditor of State destroyed, and such destruction, specifying the articles so destroyed, shall be officially certified to by all the four aforesaid officers.

SEC. 16. It shall not be lawful for the Auditor or other officers to countersign bills or notes for any associations of persons formed under this act, to an amount in the aggregate exceeding that contemplated in section 6 of this act, and any Auditor or other officer who shall violate the provisions of this section shall, upon conviction, be punished as hereinafter prescribed.

SEC. 17. Any number of persons not less than eleven, may associate to establish offices of discount, deposit, and circulation upon the terms and conditions, and subject to the liabilities prescribed in this act; but the amount of stocks or bonds transferred and deposited as aforesaid, shall not be less in value than fifty thousand dollars. Provided, that this section shall not apply to any banks established under said repealed act, entitled "an act, &c.," which have continued to pay specie for their notes. in whose name such stock is held, and the person for whose use it is so held, shall be subject to the operation of the twenty-fifth section of this act, making stockholders liable over and above their stock, to an amount equal to such stock.

SEC. 52. The Auditor of State shall give bond with security, in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, and the Treasurer of State shall give bond with security in the sum of fifty thousand dollars, payable to the State of Indiana, conditioned for the faithful performance of their respective duties under this act, which bonds and security shall be approved by the Governor, and his approval shall be endorsed on the bonds, which shall then be placed by him in the office of the Secretary of State, who shall file and deposit them in his office; and suit may be brought thereon for the use of any person or persons or banking association which may be injured by any breach of duty on the part of said Auditor or Treasurer, in relation to any duties required of them respectively by this act.

SEC. 53. The Auditor shall receive a salary of fifteen hundred dollars, and the Treasurer of State shall receive eight hundred dollars salary, in addition to all other fees and salaries for the performance of all the duties required of them by this act, which salaries shall be paid out of the State Treasury: which amount shall be repaid to said Treasury, by the Banks in the form of a fee of one cent on each bill for circulation signed by the Auditor; and if said fee does not amount to a sum sufficient to repay the same, the residue shall be apportioned equally amongst the banks, and retained out of their interest on their bonds, unless otherwise paid by the respective banks, upon being duly informed of the amount thereof.

SEC. 54. A majority of all the stocks of each of the banks to be established under this act, shall be owned at all times by resident citizens of this State, and before issuing to any association to be established under this act, any of its notes, the Auditor shall ascertain to his satisfaction, that a majority of such stock is so owned, and for that purpose shall be authorized to require the affidavit of one or more of such owners to that effect, and whenever a majority of such stock shall cease to be so owned, such bank shall be wound up, in like manner as in case of a refusal to redeem its notes.

SEC. 55. The banks established under said repealed act entitled "an act to authorize and regulate the business of General Banking," approved May 28th 1852, which have continued at all times to pay all their notes and obligations in compliance with that act, are hereby required at all times when called upon for that purpose by the Auditor, to keep a deposit of stock on file with the Treasurer as security for the redemption of their notes, and the rate of one hundred dollars worth of stocks for every hundred dollars of circulation according to the market rates in the city of New York, and no more.

SEC. 56. All laws and parts of laws conflicting with this act, are hereby repealed.

SEC. 57. Inasmuch as the General Banking Law of this State is insufficient to afford the people a sound circulating medium, an emergency exists for the immediate taking effect of this act; it is hereby declared that the same shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Mr. Anthony moved to recommit bill No. 93 with the amendments, to the committee on the Judiciary, with the following instructions:

Whether so much of said bill as binds the State to stand indebted to her bondholders until the years 1864, '65 and '66, for the benefit of said bank, and for the purpose of giving said bank until that time to lift said bonds, (they being payable after 20 and within 30 years from the date of their issue, which was in the years 1834, '35 and '36, some being due at this time, and all to fall due soon,) is not a violation of the spirit and intent of the 12th section of 11th article of the Constitution, which declares "that the State shall never lend her credit in aid of any corporation association."

And that said committee also enquire whether that part of the bill which undertakes to give to the State a lien upon the stock of the bank in preference to all other creditors, is not a violation of the spirit and intention of that clause of the Constitution aforesaid, "prohibiting the State from being a stockholder in a bank after the expiration of the present bank charter?"

And also, whether it is not a violation of the 8th section of the 11th article of the constitution, which declares "that in case of the insolvency of a bank, the bill-holder (and not the State.) shall have preference over all other creditors."

And also enquire; whether that part of a bill which authorizes a branch of the present State Bank of Indiana to sell out the individual stock of the private stockholders to the bank incorporated by this bill, is not in violation of the Constitution of the United States and of this State, prohibiting private property from being taken without the consent of the owners; that is to say, whether any one can sell the stock belonging to a stockholder, but the stockholder himself.

And also to enquire, whether the 9th section of said act, which provides that the act shall never be amended, but by the consent of the President and Directors to be subsequently given, is not a violation of the 25th section of article 1. of the Constitution, which declares "that no law shall be passed, the taking effect of which, shall be made to depend upon any authority except as provided in this Constitution."

And also to enquire; whether said bill is in violation of any other clause of the Constitution of the United States, or of this State.

To enquire and report to the Senate whether the lands recently donated by Congress to the State of Indiana, were not to supply a deficiency in the endowment of said University.

2d. To enquire and report whether the State as trustee of said lands, can make a different application of said fund from that required in the grant, without a violation of Art. 8, Sec. 7 of the State Constitution.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Freeland offered the following resolution :

WHEREAS, a bill to establish a bank with branches, passed the Senate on Saturday morning under the call of the previous question, thereby cutting off all amendments and debate. And whereas, said bill is full of error, and if it should pass the House in its present form, would divert a large portion of the funds of the State from their proper channel and on doubtful security. And whereas, there is not sufficient time given to prevent all those who might desire to subscribe stock to said bank to do so. And whereas, it is desired that a reconsideration of the vote on the passage of said bill should take place, therefore,

Resolved, That the said bill be recalled from the House.

On motion by Mr. Shook,

The resolution was laid on the table.

Mr. Shook presented the following protest which was entered upon the journal:

The undersigned members of the Senate, respectfully submit the following protest to the passage of the Senate Bill No. 93, entitled "An act to establish a bank with branches," and ask that it be entered upon the journal of the Senate.

They will, in the first instance, refer to the sections of said bill that they regard as most objectionable, and in connection therewith, to the wholesome amendments offered and voted down.

The members of the Senate who voted for the passage of this bill, argued that it was a copy of the charter of the present State Bank, with only such variations as were necessary to make it conform to the new constitution. A consideration of the subject herein presented will show the correctness or falsity of that position.

The 13th section of the charter of the present bank provides that she may charge and receive for money loaned at the rate of six per cent. per annum, and not higher. The corresponding section of the bill provides that interest may be charged by the new bank according to the rates that may, from time to time be established by law, in case of individuals. Therefore, should the Legislature at any time authorize interest to be taken on the loan of money, at ten per cent. or even a higher rate, it would authorize the bank to charge accordingly; and should the interest laws at any time be repealed, the bank could then charge without any restriction, and have the people at her mercy.

When it is remembered that the bank, under this bill, has not only the right to discount two and a half dollars for one on her capital stock, but also two and a half for one on her deposits, the impropriety of such a latitude is too apparent to need any argument, especially when it is considered that this bill also provides that the bank may charge the rates of exchange on the top of this. For instance it is a conceded fact that a bank, under the provisions of the present charter, with the rate of six per cent. can, in the hands of honest men, and well managed, pay all her expenses, and declare a dividend of twenty per cent., under the rate of ten per cent. Should such be the rate at a subsequent period, a bank would declare a dividend of 35 or 40 per cent. A fair calculation will demonstrate this, and this, too, without considering the discounts on deposits at all. The impropriety of allowing deposits to be considered as a basis of discount is seen at once, when it is considered that a deposit may be made in bank to-day of an hundred thousand dollars, discounts made upon it of two and a half for one, and the deposit drawn out to-morrow; and it may be further seen in the fact that money that will not circulate at home, by reason of its worthless character, may be sent here by foreign and irresponsible institutions, considered by the bank as deposits, and made the basis of discount. The charter of the present bank grants no such privilege. It is a dangerous privilege, for the security is withdrawn for the redemption of the bill thus put in circulation.

We attempted in vain to secure the people an amendment to this section, by making it correspond with the section in the old charter.

In pursuing the comparison between the provisions of this bill and the charter of the present bank, we come to the 15th section, which admits that the passage of the bill is purchased for a consideration—a provision adroitly introduced to prevent the bill from being subject to legislative modification, on the ground that it is a contract that cannot be altered.

We hold that it is not the dictate of wisdom thus to transfer power that evidently belongs to the people, to a moneyed corporation.

It is quite evident that such a provision was not introduced without an object, as it is not found in the charter of the present bank.

We further object to this section because it exempts the stock of the bank from payment of township, road, and corporation taxes. We think six millions of property belonging to banks is entitled to no such immunity, and that no such invidious distinction should be made between a bank and the people, in favor of the former.

The 17th section of the bill does not restrict the bank in the size of the notes she may issue, nor does any other section of the bill; hence the bank may issue notes of a denomination as low as ten cents, if she wish; the effect of which would be to drive out of circulation what little of gold and silver there may be in the State, and flood the country with a shinplaster currency.

Section 84 of the present charter provides that the books shall be kept open for thirty days for the subscription to stock; thus enabling all to subscribe who may desire to do so, while the 79th section of the bill under consideration, allows the commissioners to open the books in one moment and close them the next, thus giving the privilege to a particular favorite to subscribe the whole amount of stock in any branch for the benefit of interested parties. Every proposition to conform this section to the present charter was voted down by the friends of the bill.

The 84th section of the bill as originally introduced, was changed in the committee. We think the change was no amendment, and in no way secures the fund of the State. Under it a new bank will make twenty dollars on every hundred, as the difference between the money she gets to pay the bonds and the costs of the bonds, if she were to lift them to-day. That, on thirteen hundred thousand dollars of bonds, will amount to two hundred and sixty thousand dollars. In addition to this, the new bank becomes the owner of the stock in the present bank. By virtue of this ownership she has a right to draw the dividends from and after the 25th day of April next; all she is required to pay for these dividends is to discharge the interest on the bonds. In the two years that the present bank will do banking business, the dividends will be sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds and leave a surplus of three hundred thousand dollars. The new bank gets this surplus and pays the State for it not one cent.

The present bank declares a dividend on the 30th of April next, being the profit made by the bank for the preceding six months.

The State's portion of this dividend will amount to seventy-five thousand dollars. It will all have been earned by the State whilst she was the owner, and before the new bank had any claim upon it. Five days before this dividend is to be declared, the new bank is to become the owner of the stock, by virtue of the ownership she gets that dividend, and pays the State for it not a cent.

Our efforts to amend this section shared a like fate with our other attempts to guard the interests of the State.

The 85th section of the bill we will now consider for a moment.

It provides among other things that the State should not lift the out-standing bonds until the years 1864-5 and 6, although they will all be due, if the State desire it, according to their tenor, on the first day of January, 1856—two thirds of them being due at this time. The State is to stand indebted to those bondholders for the benefit of, and in aid of this new bank; and she is to hand the means for the payment of these bonds, when the stock is reduced to actual cash, over to the new bank.

The means thus to be handed over are the primary funds pledged for the payment of these bonds; the sinking fund which is but the security that the bonds shall be paid, is thereby instantly exposed to become the primary fund, and ultimately to be taken to pay the bonds: any failure on the part of the new bank to redeem her promise results in its total loss. But for the passage of this bill all of these bonds must be lifted and the State relieved from the indebtedness on their account, just as soon as the stock of the present bank could be converted into money, which must be in a period short of four years; but by this bill, the present bank must convert her stock into money precisely as she would under her own charter, and after it is converted into money, pay it over to the new bank instead of liquidating the bonds; should there be a surplus, as there probably will be a very large one, say $780,000,—that is to be handed over to the new bank to be paid by her, not till the years 1858, 1859.

We hold that all this money belonging to the people, which they have been fostering for twenty years, is to go out of the hands of the State and placed under the control of a private corporation, without security, and that although it is called stock, the burthen and expense of converting it into money is imposed upon the State, and that is paid over to the new bank in actual cash.

The lien that this section attempts to create in favor of the State upon the stock and assets of the bank, is either worthless or else the new bank will never be able to do a banking business. If she has the right to use the money and means she receives, then the lien is wholly nugatory. If she has no right to use them, then in truth and in fact she is no bank at all.

Will any one pretend that after this money is paid over to the new bank she has not the right to use it? And if she does use it, and it goes into the hands of a third party, will any one pretend that the State has a right to follow it up?

Of what value is the lien upon the stock after the effects have been squandered? They are its life-blood, and when gone the vital spark has fled. The more the State has of it the poorer she is. It is wholly immaterial, therefore, whether the bank has a right to transfer her stock or not, as the stock without assets is a body without a soul. It may be said a bank with so large a capital would not be likely to fail without assets. True; how does the case then stand?

The capital of this bank may be six millions of dollars; she can discount two dollars and a half for one of capital stock; she can then, without a dollar of deposits, put in circulation 12 or $15,000,000, and in addition thereto, discount two and a half to one on deposit. With this circulation she may fail. Under the 8th section of the 11th article of the constitution, the bill holder must be paid before any other creditor gets a cent.

Whoever knew a broken bank to pay fifteen millions of dollars to bill holders or anybody else? After the bill holders are paid, she has to have a surplus of two millions, or the State must suffer. Whether the State would even then come in ahead of depositors and other creditors, is at least doubtful.

The 97th section of the charter of the present bank prohibits the stockholder from paying up his stock by borrowing money from the bank to do it. In other words, it requires that the stock shall be paid up in money, and prohibits the stockholder from putting in his note instead of money. The propriety of such a provision is obvious, for without it, the stock may be paid up without money, or the money be paid in and drawn right out again, and the bank left without the means to redeem her circulation.

Why was this section left out of the bill? And why, when a motion was made to insert it, was it voted down?

Under this bill, as provided in the 81st section, the first instalment of stock is but $2.00; the residue is to be paid so gradually, that not a dollar in addition need be paid for near two years. This, taken in connection with the fact, that the entire stock of a branch may be taken by one person, is enough to alarm the fears of the people and their representatives; for a branch may be organized by one person as stockholder, and but two dollars on the share of stock paid in. This looks very much as though the intention was that the State should furnish all the means and the stockholders none! That the stockholders shall draw all the profits, and the State run all the risk without profits!

By certain provisions in the charter of the present bank, the stock owned by the State, and the sinking fund, were both solemnly pledged for the redemption of the bonds; and further, that no appropriation should otherwise be made of either until the bonds were canceled. Will the plighted faith of the State be redeemed by the passage of this bill?

We think not; on the contrary, we violate the State's pledge, and dishonor her credit, in our humble opinion, by the passage of this bill.

Having thus presented some of the odious features of the bill in detail we beg to review the facts.

1st. We have shown that this bill is not a copy of the charter of the present bank, as pretended.

2d. That the new bank can take advantage of any law upon interest, that may subsequently be passed, realizing to itself an unusual amount of income in comparison with the amount of capital employed, and thus, too, oppressing those who seek relief at the hands of the bank.

3d. We have shown that the provisions of the bill allow the bank to discount on deposits. A very dangerous power to confer upon moneyed corporations.

4th. We have shown that the 15th section of the bill makes the passage of the bill a contract between the State and the bank, and which cannot be altered or amended by the representatives of the people; and that said section exempts from taxation, for township, road or corporation purposes, six millions of capital. Thereby granting especial privileges to a moneyed corporation; drawing a mark of distinction between it and the people, in favor of the former.

5th. We have shown that no section of the bill prohibits the issuing of bills of any denomination, from five dollars to five cents, by the bank. That the issuing of such small notes would have the tendency to drive gold and silver out of the State.

6th. We have shown, also, conclusively, that by the provisions of section 79, exclusive privileges are granted to a few interested parties, as the commissioners may close the books the very moment the stock is subscribed.

7th. We have shown that the new bank will get from the State the following sums without consideration, to-wit:

1st. This sum as the difference between the money she gets to lift the bonds and what the bonds would cost her at this time	$260,000 00
2d. This sum being the surplus on the dividends of the stock for two years, over the sum necessary to pay the interest on the bonds	$300,000 00
3d. This sum the dividends earned by the present bank during the past six months which will be declared on the 30th of April next.....	$ 75,000 00
Total	$635,000 00

And that thirteen hundred thousand dollars in bank stock will yield a surplus of seven hundred and eighty thousand dollars, which is to be handed over to the new bank, on her promise to return it in the years 1858-'59.

8th. We have shown that by the provisions of the 85th Section, the State stands indebted to the bondholders for ten or twelve years for the benefit of the bank, and if the bank fails, the State is without security against the entire loss of the amount transferred.

9th. We have shown that the constitution makes the bill holder the first creditor, while the bill pretends to give the State the first lien upon the assets of the bank.

10th. We have shown that the 97th section of the charter of the present bank, prohibited a stockholder from borrowing the money from the bank to pay his stock, or from borrowing the money out of the bank paid in for stock, and that that wholesome provision is wholly omitted in this bill. Having failed to amend the bill so as to protect the interests of the State, and in our humble opinion, to preserve for the rising generation a large fund that would otherwise be appropriated to the cause of education, we feel compelled to avail ourselves of our constitutional privilege and place our objections to the bill on the journal of the Senate. The high obligation a representative owes his constituency demand at least, this from our hands.

We solemnly protest against the passage of this bill.

MR. PRESIDENT :

The committee on Claims, to whom was referred the memorial of the heirs of William Sill, have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report that they have carefully examined the claim, and from the evidence, are satisfied that there is a just claim in favor of said heirs, of at least three thousand dollars.

Your committee procured all the evidence in their reach, and the following facts were established :

William Sill entered into a contract with Morehead, Hall, & Co., for the delivery of a large amount of timber at the mouth of the Wea, on the Wabash & Erie Canal, after a small amount of timber had been delivered to said Morehead, Hall & Co., Col. Lucas, the agent, thinking the said Morehead, Hall & Co. were not prosecuting their contract as they should, discharged them, received the timber for the use of the State, and exercised entire control of it.

The original claim amounted to about seven thousand dollars, but your committee were satisfied that some of the timber had been delivered to Morehead, Hall & Co., before the State took control of it. They concluded to put the amount down even lower than they believed to be entirely just. William Sill, in his life time, presented his claim to the State, and the Committee on claims at the session of 1845-6, agreed to it, but Mr. Sill took sick here at the time, and died soon after he arrived home; and in the hurry of business at the close of the session the bill failed to pass.

Thomas Dowling, Canal trustee, who was also one of the committee on claims the session above referred to, as well as Mr. Coffin, and others, were before the committee, and they as well as others, testified to the correctness and justness of the claim.

Your committee respectfully ask that the claim be allowed in the specific appropriation bill.

The report was concurred in.

Leave being granted,

Mr. Robinson, from a select committee, made the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT:

The select committee, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 96, an act requiring railroads to be fenced, and providing compensation for stock killed or injured on such roads, and to repeal all laws in conflict, and coming within the purview of this act, have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the following amendment, and when so amended they recommend its passage.

The following message was received from his Excellency, the Governor, by Mr. King, Executive messenger :

MR. PRESIDENT :

I am directed by his Excellency, the Governor, to communicate to the Senate, the accompanying bill No. 93, "an act to establish a bank with branches," which originated in that body, together with his message in relation to the same.

Gentlemen of the Senate :

I return to you bill No. 93, entitled "An act to establish a bank with branches," which originated in the Senate, with a very brief statement of the reasons which impel me to withhold my approval of the same. The bill has been before me but a few hours, and I hasten (as the period allotted by the constitution, for your deliberations is near its close,) to give the representatives of the people an opportunity for a reconsideration.

I deeply regret that this measure has been presented at this late period of the session, when the pressure of other duties prevents me from giving it that consideration which its importance demands

The momentous issues involved in the establishment of such an institution, (which may issue paper to an unlimited amount, and whose charter cannot be repealed or amended within twenty years without its own consent,) might well make one, charged with a part of the responsibility of legislation, pause before approving this bill.

It would seem that a question so vitally affecting the public interests, ought to have been preceded by a general and full discussion before the people, yet it is not believed that the propriety of the incorporation by the present legislature of a bank with branches, was generally discussed before the people. The power of the present State bank to issue bills, &c., continuing under its charter for two years more, it seems to have been the general impression that the question of the re-charter of the State bank or the establishment of any similar banking institution would be postponed for the consideration of the next General Assembly.

This consideration alone might be sufficient to induce me to throw upon the General Assembly the burthen of a reconsideration.

But there are other considerations far more potent in my own judgment, why I should not approve the bill.

It is by no means clear that all the provisions of the bill are constitutional. Section 15 of the bill provides, that "the capital stock of said bank or branches shall not be taxed for municipal purposes." Section 23 of the bill of rights provides, that "the General Assembly shall not grant to any citizen or class of citizens privileges or immunities, which, upon the same terms, shall not equally belong to all citizens. It is not perceived how the immunity from taxation for municipal purposes which is here allowed to a class of citizens, while none others are exempted, (except as expressly provided for in the constitution) is consistent with the constitutional provision above quoted.

In considering the bill with a view to its policy, I am met at the outset with a provision which is startlingly anomalous. The 79th section, after providing for twenty days notice of the opening of the books for the original subscription of stock, by its obvious import allows the books to be closed, if the "requisite amount" shall then be subscribed, at the end of the very moment at which they are opened. Thus one man may subscribe the entire amount of stock of one or more branches, and a moneyed monopoly as odious and frightful as any of which the history of American legislation furnishes an example, may suddenly be established. The 84th section of the charter of the present State Bank, the language of which is copied, word for word, in many parts of this bill, expressly provided that the books for the original subscription of stock should be "kept open between the hours of nine and twelve o'clock A. M., of each day, for the space of thirty days;" yet this wise safe-guard, in the case of the present bill, would seem to have been studiously omitted. It is believed that no provision similar to the one in this bill cited, exists in the charter of any other moneyed corporation in this country. If there were no other objection to this bill, I never could lend the sanction of the Executive approval to a bank bill containing this provision.

The bank is authorized to receive on deposit, moneys, bullion, plate, and other articles of value of small bulk, upon such terms as may be agreed upon between the parties; and the bank has a right to discount paper to the amount of three times the amount of the capital stock paid in, and three times the amount of the deposits. Thus the bank would seem to be left to determine what are valuable articles, other than moneys, bullion, and plate, provided they be of small bulk, and also their value without reference to their immediate convertibility into money, and might discount to an amount equal to three times such assumed value, as well as three times the value of the capital stock and other deposits. In case of a financial crisis, what kind of a security is furnished for the redemption of the paper? The security of issues, resting on such a basis, is altogether illusory. It is believed, too, that the right to emit so large an issue of paper, upon such an amount and kind of securities, is unparalleled in the history of legislation. And as if this were not enough, the character of the State is invoked to its support, by conferring on it the imposing title of "The Bank of the State of Indiana."

Whatever abuses may be developed—whatever injuries may result from the establishment of this bank, no corrective can be applied by the people, through their representatives, without the assent of the President and Directors of the bank and every branch thereof, until the expiration of twenty years, when the constitution requires that the bank shall cease its operations. And the State, while limited by the constitution to the establishment of one bank with branches, mutually responsible for each others' issues, &c., is not at liberty in any case, to meet the increasing commercial wants of the State, incident to the development of her resources and the increase of her population, by the establishment of any other branch or branches, without the assent of the boards of directors of two-thirds of the branches.

Gentlemen, in the midst of this financial crisis, the closing events of which will furnish the fruits of a valuable, even though a bitter experience, why is it necessary now, when the present State bank is in full operation, to attempt precipitately to establish another State bank with branches? The problem of banking is not yet solved, and it is well for a statesman to wait patiently, when no necessity urges, to gather as many of the ripe fruits of experience as practicable.

Why not then wait till the State bank has closed up its affairs? Why not wait till it has furnished its final expose? Why not see, from the manner in which its transactions wind up, what is the necessity of a similar institution, and in what condition it leaves the country? A suspicion would seem to be implied that when the State bank comes to be wound up, it will not be so easy as now to procure from the General Assembly, a charter for a similar institution.

Considering the present bill, in relation to the powers which it confers upon the bank, the vast capital authorized, and its machinery generally, as hostile to the genius of our institutions; and regarding with distrust its present introduction, without having been preceded by a full discussion before the people; deeming that the present financial crisis teaches us to be tardy, rather than precipitate in entering upon new experiments; and looking upon it, at least, as singular that an emergency should be declared in the bill requiring it to take effect immediately, while the present State bank may continue to issue a currency for the next two years, I cannot, gentlemen, consistent with a sense of official duty, forbear to return to you the bill, and respectfully intreat you to give it a careful reconsideration.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH A. WRIGHT.

The message was then taken up.

And the question being on the passage of the bill, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding.

On motion by Mr. Slater,

A call of the Senate was ordered.

The Secretary proceeded with the call, when the following Senators answered to their names :

On motion by Mr. Shook,

The following message from the House of Representatives was taken up :

MR. PRESIDENT :

I am directed by the House to inform the Senate that the House has passed the following engrossed bill thereof, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding :

No. 93. A bill to amend an act to authorize and regulate the business of general banking.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives :

I respectfully return to you bill No. 93, entitled "An act to amend an act to authorize and regulate the business of general banking," which originated in the House of Representatives, with a brief statement of the reasons for withholding my signature. I regret that so short a time has been allowed me for examining the bill, (it having been received by me at a late hour last night,) but I return it thus early in order to afford to the representatives of the people as much time for reconsidering its provisions as possible.

The most serious objection to the bill is the almost unlimited discretionary power which it confides to a single officer—the Auditor of State—such as the power at any time to change the stocks which are a security for the issues of a bank, the power to determine, in organizing a bank, the question of residence, the power to determine whether a good defence exists or not to a protested note—thus determining in effect whether the bank shall be wound up or not.

There is an ostensible effort, to be sure, to distribute the powers under the bill to the Governor, Auditor, and Secretary of State; but on examination it will be found that those powers which should be most narrowly watched are confided to the Auditor alone.

There can be no objection to the Auditor signing and registering the bills, but here his duties should cease. It is not good policy to confide a trust requiring so much judgment, so much reflection, so large a knowledge upon financial questions, and so delicate a caution, at every step, to any one person, and especially to one, the onerous duties of whose office it is known are quite enough at least to engross the entire attention of any one man. An error of judgment, whether committed through ignorance, or haste, or incaution, is equally disastrous. Besides, while I have not the slightest reason to call in question the integrity of the late Auditor, or the present incumbent, yet it is not too much to say, that the vast interests which might be brought to bear upon an Auditor under the present law to secure a particular construction, or the doing or forbearing to do a particular act, might be well calculated to shake the integrity of any man who is not fortified by a more immovable virtue than usually falls to the lot of men.

It is proposed, however, by the present bill, to devolve a share of the responsibilities and labor of the system upon the Governor and Treasurer of State. To show the impolicy of this provision it is sufficient to say that the duties now imposed by law upon those officers are as great as they are able fitly to perform. To assume properly to discharge the duties imposed, would necessarily involve a neglect of some other of the public interests. It is not well to impose duties so great and multifarious upon any one officer.—There is a limit to those which he is able to perform or properly supervise, and when that limit is passed the duties have to be entrusted to others, who are not elected by and are irresponsible to the people.

The bill of 1852 was surely loose enough, but the construction given to it by the Auditor, and the power exercised under it by him, have abundantly satisfied me that nothing short of a separate Bank Department, having the custody of the securities, the bills, the plates, the dies, &c., will insure a system worthy of the slightest confidence of the people.

We have been sufficiently warned by the experience of the past two years, that where corporations have once obtained power, it is almost impossible by legislation to arrest the evils to which they give rise. An earnest effort was made in the Legislature two years ago to correct those evils in the free bank system, which were obvious to every reflecting person; yet nothing could be effected. And now again after the lapse of two years, during which period sharpers and brokers have literally been rioting upon the substance of the people, and after eight weeks labor of the people's representatives, a measure is offered which does not at all strike at the root of these evils; and which, in its effects, it is feared, will rather aggravate than allay, them. Owing to the general loss of confidence in the general free bank system, which has grown out of the shameless frauds which have been practiced under it, the evils which those banks are able to commit, have, to a considerable extent, been corrected by the general distrust of those institutions. But is feared that the present bank bill would increase those evils, by providing no sufficient safeguard against their recurrence, and by exciting confidence from being ushered in under the auspices of an effort to put an end to the causes of the present discontent.

By the present bill, stocks of every State and Territory of the United States at whatever price speculators and brokers may give them in New York are to furnish the basis of banking; and the scene is again to be renewed, of speculators and brokers seeking our State, to issue paper to circulate as money, and when the ripe moment arrives to depreciate the stocks upon which they are based, buy up their paper at a heavy discount and reap from the industrial classes of the State immense gains.

The experience of other States where a system of banking based upon public stocks has been tried, has demonstrated to them the insecurity resulting from the indiscriminate reception of all State stocks; and after the calamities of the past two years, it would be well for us to defer to that experience. In New York it is believed that no stocks are received as a basis for banking but those of that State and the United States.

If a like system were adopted by us, the intelligence of the people as to the resources and financial condition of the State, and indeed of the General Government, would furnish them a proper estimate of the worth of our State and United States stocks, and the value of the paper issued upon them would not be fluctuating according to the news received daily from Wall street.

In relation to the financial resources and condition of other States the people cannot generally acquaint themselves, and the value of paper issued upon them must necessarily be affected by every day's transactions at the stock board at New York. In my judgment, too, the business of banking should be limited to our own citizens, so that the banker's personal character, and State pride, might be an additional safeguard against fraud. And it should be provided with the utmost precision, and under the sternest penalties, that the business of the banks should be transacted at the place where the bills are made payable.

It was competent under the law of 1852 for the Auditor to wind up any bank not doing business at the place where its bills were payable. Yet a majority never pretended to do so, from the commencement to the present day. The Legislature was respectfully urged by me in 1853 to direct by law that this class of banks should be thus wound up. That recommendation was earnestly renewed by me at the present session, yet it is to be regretted that the present Legislature has not seen fit to take any action on the subject. Near one hundred thousand dollars of interest was paid in cash, on the 1st of January, 1855, in New York, upon stocks in banks which have refused, for more than five months past, to redeem a dollar of their paper; yet the paper issued upon those stocks is passing for less than the value of the stocks, and no action has yet been taken for the realization of this large amount of interest, which should have added greatly to the value of the paper.

If this sum of money has been invested as required by law, in additional securities, no information of that fact has been made public. This of itself shows the impropriety of leaving these questions so deeply affecting the interest of the people to any other than a Bank department, in the hands of men of high financial character, having the confidence of the people, and specially charged with so important a trust.

There is much ostensible effort made in this bill to secure the bill holder after the bank has failed, but very insignificant precautions are provided to prevent the failure.

The laborer, who ignorant of the details of banking, is always seized with the first panic, will dispose of his paper at a ruinous discount, but the broker may be amply provided for!

Entertaining fixed opinions in favor of a gold and silver currency, no bill can receive my sanction which does not in my judgment provide, in the first place, an unquestionable security for the bill holder, and secondly, a most certain safeguard against the recurrence of the distressing evils which have grown out of the present bank system.

It is said the present law will continue if this bill does not pass.

Be this as it may, the responsibility does not rest upon the executive department.

My views were so clearly stated in my last two messages, that it is hardly possible they could have been misunderstood.

It is my deliberate conviction that the discretionary powers given by this bill are equally as large and would be productive of evils equally as disastrous as those in the act of which it is amendatory.

An examination of the Auditor's office will convince any person of the insecurity of the stocks, dies, plates, &c., there deposited.

Thousands of dollars have been returned, marked and cut, yet unregistered and undestroyed, and liable again to be put in circulation.

Notes have been presented to banks for payment, which have never been registered.

It is impossible, gentlemen, to give the public confidence in any system managed as the present has been; and the sooner it is put into other hands competent and faithful, or entirely wound up, the better it will be for the people and for the character of the State, which has suffered a loss already which it will take years to retrieve.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH A. WRIGHT.
